U.S. House Votes Embargo Repeal By 244 to 179

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House of Representatives went on record in favor of repealing the United States arms embargo today, thereby insuring swift enactment of the neutrality bill advocated by President Roosevelt. The vote, a decisive victory for the administration, was 244 to 179. House conferees will meet with Senate conferees tomorrow morning to compose differences between Senate and House versions of the neutrality bill, enactment of which Mr. Roosevelt asked when he called Congress into special session September 21. The principal point of variance between the two versions is that the House bill contains only a modification of the present ban on arms sales while the Senate measure completely removes the embargo. Both measures provide for a cash and carry system of commerce with belligerents. The House and Senate may give it final approval either late tomorrow or Saturday. The House vote on repeal was the third of the day.

B.C. BOY SAFE

VANCOUVER (CP)—Mr. and Mrs. D. J. MacLeod have received from their son, David, wireless operator aboard the freighter Cairn Moga, which sank after an explosion in the Atlantic, a cable saying: "Ship down. Am safe. Letter following. David."

Reply to Nazi Blast

LONDON (CP)—Great Britain will reply with a broadcast in German tonight to a Nazi radio statement that British ministry of information leaflets dropped in Germany had stated "it is only a matter of time until the United States enters the war."

British officials classed the German statement as "absolutely incorrect in every detail."

$7,040,000 Advanced To Wheat Growers

SYDNEY, Australia (CP Cable)—The Commonwealth government today decided unconditionally to advance to wheat growers $2,000,000 ($7,040,000) on the new season's crop, which probably will be harvested in January. The step was taken as a result of prolonged requests for assistance. The government also is making efforts to obtain a new war market for its wheat.

Dock Strike Called

NEW YORK (AP)—Joseph P. Ryan, president of the International Longshoremen's Association, American Federation of Labor, today announced 5,000 longshoremen and other New York dock workers would be called out on strike at midnight. The men affected are employed on coastwise piers.

Liners Halted, Searched

MARSEILLE (AP)—Two French warships halted and searched two Italian liners, the Orazio and the Augustus, today in the Mediterranean. French authorities held 40 German passengers from the Orazio and seized a number of German-owned securities on the Augustus. The liners were en route from Italy to South America.

Dies Says Soviet Controls U.S. Ships

WASHINGTON (AP)—Chairman Martin Dies (Democrat, Texas) of the congressional committee on un-American activities, expressed the opinion today that Soviet Russia was "virtually in control of the situation here as far as our ships are concerned." He made the comment after hearing testimony of Frederick C. Phillips of New York that 80 per cent of the leadership in the National Maritime Union was Communist and that "the other 20 per cent are afraid to open their mouths."

HURRICANE!

KINGSTON, Jamaica (CP Cable)—At least two vessels are believed to have been lost in the hurricane which swept Jamaica and the Cayman Islands yesterday. The fate of the crews is unknown. Jamaica and the Caymans, 175 miles west of here, surveyed today the hurricane damage, estimated at more than $18,000 in the Caymans alone. The vessels apparently were wrecked when the storm struck the Grand and Little Cayman Islands.

An unidentified yawl was washed ashore and reports reaching here said the schooner Rembo also was lost.

Hertzog Urges S. Africa Neutrality

BLOEMFONTEIN, South Africa (CP-Reuters)—South Africa should maintain neutrality in a war beyond her own boundaries and sell her products to any country willing to take them, General J. B. M. Hertzog, former prime minister, said today in replying to a questioner at the Orange Free State United Party Congress. Hertzog, who lost the premier ship because of his anti-war stand, said the fact South Africa sold produce to the United Kingdom was no reason why she should enter the war on Britain's side.

Vatican Raps Molotoff

VATICAN CITY (CP-Havas)—L'Osservatore Romano, official Vatican organ, tonight condemned Soviet Premier Vyacheslav Molotoff's speech as one "long series of lies." The newspaper denounced Moscow's demands on Finland, saying acceptance of them would "ipso facto" entail the vassalage of that northern republic.

Armless Mother To Keep New Babe

SAFFORD, Ariz. (AP)—An armless mother, who juggles her baby about with her feet, refused dozens of offers to adopt the child today and expressed a determination to keep it for herself. The mother, Mrs. Ruth Matthews, a transient, whose baby was born last Saturday while she lay on the ground beside the highway east of here, said a rancher had given her husband, Charles, a job and a house to live in. The Matthews have nine children, three of whom were with them when the new arrival, a girl, was born.

Old Masters Stolen

LONDON (CP)—Police disclosed today that four paintings by old masters with a total value of £30,000 (about $140,000) were stolen from the Doddington Park, Nantwich, home of Sir Delves and Lady Broughton during the week-end.

Conferences Rally Empire

THEIR MAJESTIES VISIT CANADA'S LONDON HEADQUARTERS—Canada House, headquarters of the Dominion in London, is humming with activity these days. Within its heavily-sandbagged walls the high commissioner's staff is busy with the multitude of duties which result from Canada's participation in the war. Recently Canada House was visited by the King and Queen, who inspected a display of knitted wear for the troops and baby clothes for "war orphans," prepared under the direction of Mrs. Massey. Shown as they left after the visit, Their Majesties are accompanied by Mrs. Massey and High Commissioner Vincent Massey. A Royal Canadian Mounted Policeman is on guard duty.

VANCOUVER (CP)—Sentences will be imposed by Mr. Justice A. M. Manson here in assize court tomorrow on 14 prisoners convicted at the fall sitting of the court in Vancouver.

U-Boats Will Be Beaten, Says Premier

LONDON (CP)—Despite the loss of merchant ships, "nothing has occurred to shake our confidence in our ability to overcome the submarine menace," Prime Minister Chamberlain told the House of Commons today. "We have continued to take toll of enemy submarines," although "a certain number" of British merchant ships have been lost, said Mr. Chamberlain. Saying stormy weather had slowed the war, Mr. Chamberlain described as particularly "gallant" the flights of Royal Air Force reconnaissance planes over Germany.

O'Connor Estate $6,500,000

TORONTO (CP)—The estate of Senator Frank O'Connor, millionaire candy manufacturer who died here August 21, has been valued for succession duty purposes at $6,500,000, it was learned today.

Young Vancouver Bandits Get $400

VANCOUVER (CP)—Two young bandits staged a daylight hold-up in Chinatown here today, robbing Jack Libby, drugstore messenger, of $400. Libby, who telephoned police immediately after the robbery, said the pair attacked him as he was wheeling his bicycle down the lane. He did not recall if they were armed.

U.S. Telegraphs Asked to Carry No Betting News

CHICAGO (AP)—Federal and county prosecutors united forces today in an unprecedented action to destroy organized gambling by cutting off communications services to the vast M. L. Annenberg racing news empire.

A government attorney, said this was the first time in history that such a co-operative effort was undertaken.

William J. Campbell, United States district attorney, and Thomas J. Courtney, state's attorney of Cook County in Chicago, addressed the three communications companies an ultimatum they cease serving the Annenberg network. The companies were the American Telephone and Telegraph Company, the Illinois Bell Telephone Company and the Western Union Telegraph Company.

While the ultimatum covered only activities in the northern district of Illinois, Campbell said compliance with it would be a death blow since contracts between the utilities and Annenberg interests were executed in Chicago.

Asked what noncompliance would mean, Campbell said: "If they fail to obey, the only recourse is grand jury action."

Letter to heads of three communications organizations from the prosecutors stated contracts with Annenberg companies contained provisions that the arrangements covered by the contract "shall not be used for carrying an unlawful act."

"These provisions," the Campbell-Courtney letters said, "clearly authorize a discontinuance of service for illegal purposes. Unquestionably the operation of these service enterprises are unlawful."

On August 30 Annenberg, Charles Bidwell, owner of the Chicago Cardinals professional football club and of a ticket printing company, and James Ragen Sr., general manager of the Nationwide News, were indicted by a federal grand jury which charged use of interstate wires for carrying "a list of prizes awarded by means of a lottery scheme."

These prize lists, the indictment stated, were the results of horse races and the prizes paid to backers of them in the races. Another indictment charged use of the mails in the furtherance of the alleged lottery.

Chamberlain Says Russians Disappoint Nazis

By J. F. SANDERSON

LONDON (CP)—Prime Minister Chamberlain told the House of Commons today that the conference in London of Dominion cabinet ministers was a "striking demonstration of the united determination of the Empire."

In his weekly war report, the Prime Minister dismissed the speech of Soviet Premier Vyacheslav Molotoff by saying it "occasioned some disappointment" in Berlin and refusing "to disturb myself over flights of fancy in which M. Molotoff indulged when describing the aims of the Allies."

As Mr. Chamberlain spoke Hon. T. A. Crerar of Canada and other Dominion ministers listened from one of the galleries. "From Canada, the Commonwealth of Australia, New Zealand, the Union of South Africa, and India," he said, "have come cabinet ministers and representatives who have traveled thousands of miles in order to make personal contact with the ministers in this country and see with their own eyes the gigantic effort in which we are engaged."

ALL CONTRIBUTE

"Discussions with these representatives have already begun and we are considering with them how best to co-ordinate the contribution each of us can make to our common task. The Empire has already shown how generous and wholehearted is its spirit of co-operation."

"The fuller knowledge we shall now gain on the plans of the different governments as a result of the presence of their ministerial representatives here will be of great value to us. In their turn we are confident the Dominion governments and the governments of India will find the first-hand impressions of their representatives will afford them invaluable aid in gaining fuller appreciation of common problems and of the best and quickest means of solving them."

"Equally striking is the wholehearted co-operation we are receiving from all parts of the Empire, including Burma, and from the colonies."

SERVICES VOLUNTEERED

Recalling he had already expressed deep satisfaction over the messages received after the outbreak of hostilities from all Empire territories assuring the British government of their support, Mr. Chamberlain added:

"We did not ask for these messages. The colonies have not been forced into war by Great Britain against their will. The action of so many people of various nationalities is witness to their consciousness that the threat to Great Britain is equally a threat to the freedom and well-being which has been assured to them under British rule."

Although to begin with the principal colonial effort would be in the economic domain and would consist of helping Great Britain by shipment of raw materials and foodstuffs, Mr. Chamberlain said he would like to express gratitude to the many inhabitants of the colonies who offered their own services.

"It is the intention of His Majesty's government to employ the manpower of the colonial empire as may be most effective, and plans for doing this are being worked out."

"The voluntary offers of service throughout the Empire have far exceeded our immediate requirements."

REPLY TO MOLOTOFF

Turning to Molotoff's address, Mr. Chamberlain said:

"In the international field, the outstanding feature of the week was the speech made on October 31 by the People's Commissar for Foreign Affairs of the Soviet Union."

"M. Molotoff's speech, which had been eagerly awaited in Berlin, but which I imagine has occasioned some disappointment in that quarter, has been carefully studied by His Majesty's government, who have noted with interest its definition of the Soviet government's future aims."

"I remember that in an earlier speech on May 31 M. Molotoff issued a warning that his government would not be drawn into international conflicts. He said also on that occasion 'we stand for the cause of peace and for the prevention of any sort of development of aggression.' That is also the position of His Majesty's government, and I am not disposed to disturb myself over the flights of fancy in which M. Molotoff indulged when describing the aims of the Allies."

"We have stated those aims ourselves in plain terms and I am confident they are fully appreciated by the great majority of the nations of the world."

(The Russian premier-Foreign Commissar Tuesday accused the Allies of fighting Germany primarily to protect their colonial empires, and declared the restoration of Poland could not be considered. He dwelt at length on friendly relations with Germany, but made no mention of any aid other than economic and political to Berlin.)

Coulmore Search Ends; Ship Safe

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States coastguard definitely called off its search for the British freighter Coulmore at 3 this afternoon, apparently satisfied the ship was safe.

Vessels which had been looking for the freighter were ordered to return to their regular assignments.

Although the coastguard had been advised early today that the Coulmore had radioed she was safe, the search was continued, it was learned, until the coastguard received substantiating information of an undisclosed nature.

The Camperdown, N.S., radio station advised the coastguard cutter Bibb at 2:30 a.m. (11:30 p.m., P.S.T., Wednesday), it had heard directly from the Coulmore that she had eluded the submarine threat which had caused her to send a distress signal.

The Bibb, which was leading a flotilla of coastguard and navy vessels in the search for the Coulmore, immediately started for land, messaging headquarters the Canadian advice "justified closing the search."

However, to be on the safe side, the coastguard ordered the cutter Duane, another of the U.S. neu-

Gunman Takes $1,400 From Toronto Bank

TORONTO (CP)—A man wearing overalls and a cap, and with a gun in his hand, got $1,400 from a Canadian Bank of Commerce branch here today.

The robber first pushed a note written on the back of a cigarette carton into the teller's cage. The note demanded all the money in the cage.

Bank employees lost sight of the man after he had run outside the building in the northwest section of the city. Persons on the street, however, saw a man answering his description get into a dark grey roadster of about 1930 model and drive west.

trality patrol ships in the Atlantic, to proceed to the area about 680 miles east of New York to look for the Coulmore.

When the decision to resume the search was made, the Bibb advised authorities she had a sick sailor aboard, and was permitted to proceed to Halifax.

While the search was being continued it was pointed out the Coulmore had failed to answer the Camperdown station after the first message of safety had come in.

The Coulmore distress signal came early yesterday morning. The position given by the Coulmore at that time indicated she was just inside the neutrality belt around the Americas fixed at the recent Pan-American neutrality meeting in Panama.

KENT'S MOFFAT ELECTRIC and GAS RANGES KENT'S LTD. 641 YATES STREET

Profiteer Fined $200

WINNIPEG (CP)—Magistrate R. B. Graham today fined Ben Elkun, Winnipeg grocer, $200 and costs when he appeared for sentence after being convicted yesterday of profiteering in sugar.

Mikita Bilinski testified he had purchased 10 pounds of sugar at Elkun's store September 4 for 80 cents and later the same day returned and bought 100 pounds for $3.

Clara Elkun, daughter of the grocer, told the court that prior to September 4 the price charged for 100 pounds of sugar was "about $6.50 to 6.75."

Flint So Far Avoids Capture

BERGEN, Norway (AP)—The American freighter City of Flint, in charge of a Nazi prize crew, passed Maaloy, 110 miles north of Bergen, at 9.30 a.m. (12.30 a.m., P.S.T.) today en route to Germany.

The City of Flint was followed by two Norwegian destroyers and was making a speed of 14 knots.

The ship was apparently traveling in Norwegian territorial waters, the report from Maaloy indicated, and was expected to pass Bergen this evening.

Norwegian sources indicated considerable anxiety was felt in official circles last night over the possibility British warships might attempt to seize the City of Flint as it passed the peninsula of Stadland.

To pass Stadland the freighter had to go out to the open sea and several British warships were reported seen in the vicinity. The Flint passed Stadland during the night, however, without being molested.

The Norwegian minesweeper Olaf Tryggvason and five destroyers followed the American vessel during the night.

German sources said today the American freighter City of Flint, "strictly in accordance with international law covering prizes."

German spokesmen indicated the City of Flint was voyaging steadily along the Norwegian coast in territorial waters where it would be safe from seizure by a British warship.

Nazi sources said a prize ship may travel in neutral waters provided it has not the character of a warship, enters no neutral harbor except in distress and keeps moving steadily.

Norway, these sources said, apparently took the same view, hence was not objecting to the vessel's movement along her coast.

Manion Critical Of Government In War Efforts

OTTAWA (CP)—Political patronage and favoritism "continues" in the King government's administration of Canada's war effort, Hon. R. J. Manion, national Conservative leader, charged today in a statement.

"I must protest strongly the continuance" of such things in Canada's war work, said the Opposition leader.

The primary purpose of the statement, he said, however, was to correct a popular impression the Conservative Opposition in the House of Commons was consulting from time to time by the government. This was not the case and Dr. Manion held the government probably was following the best course in keeping full control of the war program in its own hands, leaving the Opposition at liberty to criticize.

The government, he added, must assume full responsibility for the "very regrettable lack of military preparations which has been apparent to all observers since the declaration of war."

Dr. Manion said he had recently received letters stating the writers had been refused government orders because they were not on the preferred patronage list.

"I submit that if Canada is to get a united war effort it is high time that this pernicious system should be eliminated. When all are making sacrifices it is no time for political favoritism," he said.

In view of such incidents he suggested Parliament should be called early in January "in order that we may have a balance sheet before us in regard to all war activities, with accompanying Parliamentary privilege of examination, inquiry and discussion."

"If one may judge by the letters and visits received by me daily," said Dr. Manion's statement, "there seems to be an impression across Canada that the King government very frequently consults me, as leader of the National Conservative Party, that they ask our co-operation, and that we are therefore equally responsible with them for the conduct of the war and equally capable of giving such as contracts, appointments and so forth."

SESSION PROMISE

"It is true that, in the special war session called early in September to give authority to the government to organize Canada's war effort, the National Conservative Party loyally offered to co-operate with the government in advancing that program; but since the close of the session on September 13 our party have never been called in for consultation or advice, nor have we been given any information other than what we read in the daily press."

The course followed by the government in keeping full control of our war program is probably best for Canada, as under our Parliamentary system, an alert and constructively critical opposition is second only in importance to the government itself. This, of course, suggests that in future we will feel ourselves liberty to criticize when that action seems to be in the public interest, and not continue, as we have been doing, to avoid criticism of the Government even when we felt that certain incidents deserved it.

CO-ORDINATION

"Canada needs a great national effort to co-ordinate our resources for the purpose of carrying out our part in the war. All loyal Canadians want this, and they are not getting it—partly, at any rate, because of these irregularities. While we are aiming at equality of sacrifice and service, there should also be equality of opportunity, with any chance of profiteering eliminated.

"It is the duty and responsibility

RUSSIA SPEEDS NAZI TRADE PLAN

BERLIN (AP)—Great activity at the Soviet Russian trade headquarters today was seen as evidence of Nazi-Communist economic co-operation whereby Germany hopes to get raw materials she needs for war.

While the German press was exhausting adjectives to praise Premier Vyacheslav Molotov of Russia for outlining a foreign policy in which a strong German was regarded as necessary, economic co-operation between the states was being accelerated.

Russian experts were scurrying about German factories apparently placing orders for machinery and other industrial products. In Russia, meanwhile, German buyers were reported to be ordering Russian wheat, lumber and ores.

Little money was involved because the deal was essentially one of barter arrangements.

Duce Leads Move For Balkan Peace

ATHENS (AP)—The government announced today that letters had been exchanged with Italy "contributing to the preservation of peace in this part of Europe."

It said in this part of Europe. The exchange of letters would be released tomorrow.

(Diplomatic sources in Rome said Tuesday night that Italy and Greece were expected to sign a nonaggression pact soon. Italy promised to respect Greece's territorial integrity earlier this year after the conquest of Albania put Italian troops on the Greek border.)

(Italy announced withdrawal of her troops from the Greek-Albanian frontier September 20 as evidence of "complete reciprocal trust" between Italy and Greece.)

By RICHARD G. MASSOCK
ROME (AP)—Athens dispatches reporting an Italian-Greek peace agreement were regarded in diplomatic circles here today as fresh evidence of Premier Mussolini's leadership in efforts to keep war out of the Balkans.

Nothing has been disclosed here concerning the negotiations, but diplomats heard two days ago that the two states were about to sign a nonaggression pact.

Foreign circles pointed out that Italy now is on good terms with the Balkan countries which lie within Rome's sphere of influence. These sources considered her relations with Turkey satisfactory although Italy was not considered likely to sign an agreement with that power since it might give the appearance that Mussolini was lining up with Britain and France, with which Turkey signed a mutual aid pact October 19.

Not only Italy, but the Mediterranean area of Europe from Spain to Turkey was spared war, in the view of many observers, because of Mussolini's choice of a nonbelligerent status for his country.

Meanwhile, the Fascist press reaffirmed the Italian-German military alliance signed last May and declared it remained unchanged.

Newspapers revived mention of the alliance, which had been missing from their columns since the outbreak of the European war, in comment on Tuesday's shakeup in the Italian government.

Il Messaggero said it was "foolish" wishful thinking to look for any connection between the reorganization and relations between the axis powers.

bility of the Government to give a proper lead in all these matters, avoiding political and banishing patronage and favoritism from Canada's war effort. That is the only way in which Canada can do her full part in this time of national and international crisis."

ON OVERSEAS GENERAL STAFF—Brigadier G. R. Pearkes, V.C. (left), former officer commanding at Work Point Barracks, will command the Second Infantry Brigade in the first Canadian Division now being organized to go to France in the spring. Lieut. Colonel J. Finns Visit Soviet in Session

MOSCOW (AP)—Soviet Russian-Finnish negotiations over Russia's demands for military and territorial concessions entered a decisive phase today when a Finnish delegation came to Moscow for the third time.

There was no immediate rush to resume the negotiations, however, and the day passed without any meeting.

Observers see a sign of conciliation in the fact that the Finns arranged to attend tonight's session of the Supreme Soviet, Russia's parliament.

The delegation arrived this morning and had been expected to resume negotiations late in the afternoon in an atmosphere sharpened by Soviet Premier-Foreign Commissar Vyacheslav Molotov's public declaration Tuesday of the Russian aims.

These were: Soviet acquisition of a strip of Finland north of Leningrad; a Soviet naval base on the Finnish mainland at the entrance to the Gulf of Finland; cession by Finland of certain islands in the gulf and or part of the Finnish arctic coast; and demilitarization of the Finnish frontier.

In exchange, he offered Finland a portion of Soviet Karelia twice the area of the proposed Finnish grants; and Soviet withdrawal of objections to Finland alone fortifying the Aaland Islands in the Gulf of Bothnia.

(Foreign Minister Eljas Erkkö intimated in Helsinki today that Finland was willing to concede provided guarantees were given with a treaty.)

Russia meanwhile continued to move toward commercial co-operation with Germany.

Semi-official German quarters reported a Nazi economic delegation would return to Berlin today, having completed arrangements for major items to be obtained from Russia.

DANES' ATTITUDE

COPENHAGEN (CP-Havas)—Denmark is in no position to join in aiding Finland if it comes into conflict with the Soviet Union, the National Tidende (Conservative) said today.

The paper expressed surprise that Swedish papers are urging the Finns to reject the Soviet demands.

"This is advice that can be given only if solidarity pushed to the full and final consequences is contemplated," the National Tidende said. "This solidarity cannot be promised by powerless Denmark."

"Finland is in an extremely difficult position. It must choose between two evils. It is cruelly compelled by force to reply yes or no to demands made upon it. Danes salute the heroism of Finland."

The Berlin correspondent of the Politiken said that despite the official attitude of indifference, the German people and many army officers sympathize with Finland and regard with misgivings the developments in the Baltic.

By LYNN HEINZERLING
HELSINGFORS (AP)—Finland acknowledged today Soviet Russia's right to strengthen Leningrad's defenses, but intimated Russian territorial demands must be modified if an agreement is to be reached.

Russia has demanded her border with Finland on the Isthmus of Karelia be moved "several dozen kilometers farther to the north of Leningrad" in order to put that city out of range of guns on the frontier, but the Finns insist Moscow is asking too much.

New treaties, said Foreign Minister Eljas Erkkö, should be accompanied by guarantees that they will be respected.

The Finnish people recognize, he said, "that if difficulties and dangers are to be overcome, it may be that we must throw into the scale all we own."

Addressing a defence meeting last night as a five-man delegation journey to Moscow for further conferences at Russian invitation, Erkkö declared Russia had approved Finland's neutrality policy and this "implies that Finland cannot enter into any undertaking which would endanger our country's neutrality or even make it subject to doubt."

HALLOWE'EN PRANK
CAUSE OF DEATH

KELOWNA, B.C. (CP)—A Halloween prank was blamed for the death of Angus McMillan of Vancouver, whose body was found yesterday morning in a car with the engine still running.

British Columbia Police said death apparently was caused by carbon monoxide poisoning due to an apple which was stuck in the exhaust pipe. The body was found by his brother, Dan McMillan of Kelowna.

McMillan, 46, was an insurance salesman.

Dominions' Support Praised By Attlee

LONDON (CP)—Praise of the co-operation of the Dominions with Great Britain was expressed by Clement Attlee, Labor leader, who spoke in the Commons today after Prime Minister Chamberlain.

"It is a striking demonstration of how the strength of the ties that bind peoples of different races, languages and creeds in the Empire depends upon freedom and not upon compulsion," he said.

Referring to the recent visit to France of a group of members of the Commons, Mr. Attlee said: "I believe very much in members of Parliament of the two nations getting together in time of war. It is extremely important from the viewpoint of our understanding of each other and of understanding between peoples on both sides of the Channel, and I hope we shall soon welcome over here representatives of our Allies."

Sir Archibald Sinclair, leader of the Liberal opposition, said he regretted the Prime Minister was not able to reveal the number of enemy submarines sunk, or the tonnage of ships which had been lost.

Concerning the Soviet Union, Sir Archibald expressed satisfaction at the decision of the British government "to pursue a patient policy of negotiation, and in particular to explore the possibilities and advantages for the two countries of expansion in trade relations."

DANCER SPY MUST SERVE 5 YEARS

GENEVA (AP)—A 35-year-old dancer known as "Nina" was sentenced to five years in prison today by five Swiss judges who found her guilty of espionage and treason.

Roger Joel, a former draftsman in a Swiss arms factory, jointly convicted on the same charges, was sentenced to three years' imprisonment.

The conviction carried loss of civil rights for three years in the case of Joel and 10 years in the case of the dancer, who was on the docket as Virginia Cap Rota. Paul Rochat, a Geneva detective who went to trial at the same time, was convicted of political activity in behalf of a foreign state and sentenced to 15 months in prison. His wife, Dolly, received a 10-month suspended sentence on the same charge.

The state charged the Rochats had transmitted military and political information to the Italian consul-general in Geneva, but did not accuse them of treason.

The dancer, accused by the government of heading a far-reaching spy ring but described by her own attorneys as a mere pawn of mysterious "higher ups," heard the sentence apparently unmoved.

Toronto Man Freed Of Murder Charge

TORONTO (CP)—Donald (Mickey) MacDonald was acquitted by a jury last night at his retrial on a charge of murdering James Windsor, Toronto book-maker, last January.

The jury deliberated approximately eight and a half hours, returning to the courtroom once to have Mr. Justice J. C. Makins explain what might constitute "reasonable doubt" as a reason for acquittal.

The retrial lasted 15 days. MacDonald was convicted in May at Toronto assize court sessions.

Dr. F. C. James McGill Principal

MONTREAL (CP)—Dr. Frank Cyril James, distinguished economist, will succeed Dr. Lewis W. Douglas, as principal and vice-chancellor of McGill University.

The appointment is effective January 1, when Dr. Douglas will retire to become president of a United States insurance firm in New York. His retirement was announced some months ago.

Announcement of Prof. James' appointment by the board of governors was made by Sir Edward Beatty, chancellor, who said in a statement that the appointee, director of the university's School of Commerce since September, 1938, brings "a cosmopolitan understanding of the educational policies and public problems of two continents."

Dr. James, a native of London, is 36 years old and is a British subject. He came to McGill from the United States, where he had held the post of vice-president of the First National Bank of Chicago for the purpose of studying the Chicago monetary market.

WROTE BOOKS

Noted as a scholar and author of books on economics, Mr. James took his degree in 1923 at the London School of Economics. He was appointed to the staff of Barclay's Bank and later that year won the Sir Ernest Cassell Fellowship in Economics, granted by the University of London for investigation of economic conditions in North America.

Mr. James traveled in North America for several months under terms of the award and then took up postgraduate work at the University of Pennsylvania, from which he received an arts degree in 1924 and a Ph.D. degree in 1926.

In 1924 he was appointed instructor of finance in the Wharton School of Finance and Commerce at the University of Pennsylvania. Dr. James became full professor of finance at the university in 1935. In 1936 he acted as adviser on research to the Association of Reserve City Bankers in United States and for the session of 1937-38 he was granted leave of absence to take over the banking post of Chicago's First National.

Dr. James is a director of the American Academy of Political and Social Science and is secretary of the advisory conference on financial research of the National Bureau of Economic Research.

Japan Wants Clear Soviet Declaration

TOKIO (CP-Havas)—Soviet Russia's attitude toward China must be clarified before Premier Molotov's hopes for a settlement of outstanding Japanese-Soviet problems can be realized, according to Japanese spokesmen.

Commenting on the Soviet leader's speech of last Tuesday, the spokesmen said Japan would not reject any Soviet proposals in advance, and would give them serious consideration. Forthcoming arrival of the Soviet ambassador, Constantin Smetanin, is expected to provide an opportunity for Japan to obtain the required clarification.

New Theory Cuts Casualties In R.A.F. Training

By GUY E. RHOADES

LONDON (CP)—There is a new technique in training student pilots for the Royal Air Force, and it has cut down casualties almost to the vanishing point.

Squadron Leader P. Broad, who commands an advance squadron, outlines it like this:

First the recruit learns to fly a light airplane, the sort that hundreds of Canadians have learned to fly at clubs during the last 10 years. Then he goes to a school combining intermediate and advanced instruction. The machines he must handle there are much heavier, faster and more powerful than anything he has flown before, and they land at a much higher speed and have many more instruments to worry him.

The instructor sends the pupil out on the field and lets him play around for a day with a grounded plane, answering his questions and convincing him that the new job is not much different from the one he learned in. He stresses that flying it will be easy.

Next day the pupil gets a few short dual-control hops in the fast machine, with an instructor sitting by him in case he makes a bad mistake.

ALL ON HIS OWN

The instructor reiterates that it is easy, and tells the student to take off. He does not take off for him, even once, or touch the controls, unless his charge is about to crash. Usually half an hour of that sort of thing is enough to convince the student he can take the machine up by himself with complete confidence.

Once he has done that half-hour or so and his first solo on the new machine, he is ready to start with the other complications of his training, keeping course for his photographer or bomber or gunner and sticking to his formation.

Squadron Leader Broad says: "The reason there used to be so many casualties among young pilots was that flying was supposed to be difficult and dangerous. We teach them now that it's nothing of the sort. Once they can fly we don't give them any more help than we have to. We just stand by at first for a crash. It may sound a bit brutal, but it works."

Squadron Leader Broad has been at his present station more than a year and hasn't had a casualty yet. He had some in other stations, and says: "They go in batches. I don't know why."

New Treatment for Addison's Disease

CHICAGO (AP)—Striking evidence was reported today that a new synthetic hormone causes remarkable improvements in persons having Addison's disease, a glandular disorder usually fatal.

Four New York physicians announced in the Journal of the American Medical Association that "clinically there is unequivocal improvement far greater than has resulted from any therapy hitherto advocated."

Treatments used previously, they said, have been "only moderately satisfactory at best."

E.S. Johnson Goes To Front for C.P.

TRURO, N.S. (CP)—Edwin S. Johnson, superintendent of the Canadian Press bureau at London, will be Canadian Press war correspondent in France, it was announced today by W. Rupert Davies, president of the Canadian Press, at a meeting of the maritime division. S. S. Robertson, New York bureau superintendent, will be acting London superintendent and alternate war correspondent.

Mr. Davies, editor and publisher of the Kingston Whig Standard, said Mr. Johnson would be in France in advance of the Canadian forces, Mr. Robertson taking charge of the London bureau, which is the centre of Canadian Press war coverage activities. The two will alternate in providing news from the front line.

The Canadian Press dispatches from France would supplement reports already provided from Allied headquarters by three great news associations, Reuters, Havas and the Associated Press, giving to Canadian newspapers a service surpassing in completeness and general excellence than that received by any other group of newspapers in the world.

"Eddie" Johnson, superintendent of the Canadian Press London bureau since its inauguration three years ago, has been a member of the Canadian Press staff for 16 years. Born at Gimli, Manitoba, he worked successively at Winnipeg, Ottawa, Toronto and New York bureaus. He saw service with the Royal Air Force in France in the first Great War. Last August, immediately before the declaration of war, he completed a one-month motor tour of European capitals with Mr. Davies.

"Sam" Robertson, born in Glasgow, joined the Canadian Press 20 years ago in Ottawa and has since worked at every Canadian Press domestic bureau except Halifax and Vancouver. He has been stationed in New York since 1932 and was appointed superintendent three years ago. He was one of the Canadian Press staff men who covered the royal visit to Canada and the United States last spring.

2 to Serve 10 Years

BRAMPTON, Ont. (CP)—Alex MacDonald and Leo Gauthier were convicted by a jury here today of the armed robbery of the Port Credit branch of the Canadian Bank of Commerce and of shooting with intent to maim Ray Bryant, accountant at the bank. They were sentenced by Mr. Justice J. G. Kelly to concurrent terms of 10 years in the Kingston Penitentiary on each of the charges. Bryant was shot through the shoulder when the bank was robbed of $2,700 last December 9.

Secret Treaties Out For Britain This Time

LONDON (CP)—Britain will enter no secret treaties which might prejudice chances of a harmonious peace when the war is over, Richard Butler, under-secretary for foreign affairs, indicated in the House of Commons.

Commander Oliver Locker Lampson, Independent, asked whether the government would refrain from "entangling secret treaties" such as those which prevented "fairer understanding after the last war."

Mr. Butler replied: "It is not the intention of His Majesty's government to take any step which in their opinion would prevent the attainment of a satisfactory settlement on the conclusion of hostilities."

France Honors 20 Soldiers

PARIS (AP)—The French government has published the first list of soldiers who have been awarded Croix de Guerre medals and Legion of Honor decorations for "remarkable heroism and great coolness" in the war with Germany.

Twenty soldiers were decorated, 15 of whom were seriously wounded. Ten of those received both the Croix de Guerre and Legion of Honor rank.

The citations disclosed that German mines took the greatest toll among the 15 wounded.

THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 2, 1939

Victoria Honored

VICTORIA IS NATURALLY HIGHLY gratified that Minister of National Defence Rogers has selected for the First Canadian Division three officers stationed here and a fourth who for some years prior to his removal to M.D. 13 at Calgary was District Officer Commanding at Work Point. The local men, well and favorably known and in possession of adequate qualifications for their important tasks, are, Lieut.-Colonel G. R. Turner, Lieut.-Colonel J. Nelson Gibson, and Captain G. A. F. Townesend, while Brigadier G. R. Pearkes, V.C., is the fourth—whose record of brilliant service needs no recapitulation here. He will go to the post of commander of the 1st Infantry Brigade; Lieut.-Colonel Turner has been named general staff officer, Grade 1; Lieut.-Colonel Gibson will be senior ordnance mechanical engineer, and Capt. Townesend has been appointed deputy assistant director of ordnance services.

Brigadier J. C. Stewart, D.O.C. at Work Point, while elated that three of "his men" should have been selected, since "all of them are excellent appointments," his establishment will miss them all as will the host of friends whom they have made in this community during the years in which they have been stationed in M.D. 11. In choosing these officers, incidentally, Hon. Mr. Rogers—who himself served overseas with the C.E.F. in the Great War—is following out his general plan of selection which places merit and experience before any other consideration. Although it is not necessary to suggest that the Minister of National Defence is not unfamiliar with certain unfortunate precedents established in the last war, his own experience at the front conceivably is having a good deal to do with his choice of men and is no doubt reminding him that social "distinction" is a poor substitute for an alert mentality in a tough spot.

'Witnessing' Against War

ATTORNEY-GENERAL CONANT OF ONTARIO has decided not to prosecute the 75 United Church ministers, including Dr. Richard Roberts, ex-moderator, who signed the "witness against war." In this document they stated "upon the declaration of our own general council in 1938 that 'war is contrary to the mind of Christ,' we find ourselves, not without pain or regret, unable to approve of this war." Compared with their statement and the effect of it coming from men of authority in a powerful church, the recent subversive utterance charge in British Columbia was mild. Yet, in it, the accusation of having said "Chamberlain was as bad as Hitler" brought one, Lonsdale, into court with the approval of the Attorney-General's Department and got him a term in jail.

However, the Ontario decision was based not on whether the ministers had laid themselves open to prosecution, but on the effect at home and abroad such a prosecution might have. Mr. Conant has wisely taken the view that action advertising the war disapproval of 75 men of prominence in Canada, most of them holding churches in what is held to be the most imperially-minded of all provinces, would only stir up disunion at home and exaggerate that disunion abroad.

Mr. Conant's interest in the incident has resulted in bringing out the fact that the "witness against war" document was not prepared by a member of the church nor by anyone in Canada. The document came from an organization outside the country suspected of being an agency for the spread of Communist propaganda. The ministers who signed it when it was placed before them were sincere, but apparently victims of foreign cunning. Under such circumstances it is not likely in the slightest degree to prejudice recruiting or stir disaffection. The incident, however, is a lesson for all as to the danger of playing with "dangerous thoughts" at this time.

'Flights of Fancy'

LESS THAN A MONTH AFTER JOSEF Stalin and M. Litvinoff "parted company" last May, M. Molotov, newly-installed Soviet Russia's Commissar for Foreign Affairs, announced that the Moscow government stood "for the cause of peace and for the prevention of any sort of development of aggression." On Tuesday of this week, M. Molotov, speaking before the Russian "parliament," accused the British and French of fighting Germany primarily to protect their colonial empires, and declared the restoration of Poland could not be considered. So said Mr. Chamberlain in the House of Commons this afternoon: "I am not disposed to disturb myself over the flights of fancy in which M. Molotov indulged when describing the aims of the Allies."

In view of all the circumstances baffling Europe today, and they change so frequently, most people will say the British Prime Minister has become sufficiently accustomed to German-Russian ventriloquism and diplomatic window-dressing that he considers himself quite shock proof. Having gone so far with Berlin, and having collected so much of the spoils—actual and potential—consequent upon the elimination of Poland as a territorial and political entity, official Russia must continue to show a measure of appreciation for what it has gained at no expense save that which Germany has had to meet in more ways than one. What Molotov said on Tuesday about the aims of the Allies, then, can be put with the rest of the drivel which continues to come out of Berlin's propaganda factory. And we would not be surprised if Russia's Foreign Commissar put it there himself almost as he spoke the words by which Mr. Chamberlain positively refuses to be disturbed.

If M. Molotov's speech is giving Germany comfort, as today's dispatches indicate, it only goes to show how easily the members of the Nazi oligarchy are comforted—or how frantically they grasp at anything they think can be turned into useful "information" for home consumption. But was there much in the Soviet Foreign Commissar's rigmorale that will stand analysis? Was there anything in it which could not be reconciled, dictator style, with his speech of May 31 to which Mr. Chamberlain referred this afternoon? Molotov still insists that Russia will remain neutral—or as neutral as common decency among thieves will permit; but neutral enough to hesitate about military assistance or out-and-out economic service to the Reich. And can he not suggest to Mr. Chamberlain that after Germany had hacked Poland to bits there remained nothing for Russia to do but to pick up those morsels of territory which otherwise would have been added to Hitler's domain? Far-fetched logic this may be. But the whole situation is so tragically fantastic that fantastic argument is a keen competitor with reason.

The Humble 'Spud'

PRESUMABLY OUR BRITISH COLUMBIA Department of Industry has observed a note in the current issue of Canadian Business on the subject of canned potatoes.

We are told that the humble "spud" in Prince Edward Island—that smallest of the Canadian provinces, but by no means the least important, is known affectionately as "Spud Island"—is going into cans in a big way, and that it is finding customers in numerous parts of the world.

Select grade potatoes are electrically peeled, then steam cooked and vacuum sealed in cans. By this method, it is contended, all the valuable mineral salts are retained. One of the advantages claimed by canning potatoes is that the processing will tend to stabilize the price of potatoes, benefiting both the consumer and the producer. The canned product may be used in a variety of ways, has the advantage of being ready to serve at a moment's notice and is marketable in any country, tropical or temperate, at any season of the year.

Well, this is wartime, and we do not know at this stage how much food will have to be put up in this country in convenient exportable form. We grow a lot of potatoes in British Columbia.

Army Language

TWO POINTS OF VIEW ON RUSSIA'S advances to Japan come from Tokyo today. The newspaper Kokumin Shimbun, the army's organ, sees the way opened for the creation of a German-Italian-Japanese-Soviet bloc. Nichi Nichi and the important commercial daily, Chugai Shogyo, urge the government to be prudent in meeting Soviet advances.

This is another case of totalitarianism frantically grabbing for anything that may help to make up for the Japanese army's failure in China. But the present government in Tokyo has been fooled by the principal axis partner and is not likely to respond to the army's "wishful thinking" any more.

Bee stings are now said to be a cure for rheumatism. One probably just won't notice the rheumatism.

Soviet troops marching into Estonia to man bases granted under the mutual-assistance treaty are carrying books, films, linotype machines and guns—all the accoutrements of modern civilization.

Applause From Other Half

From Toronto Star
Election of the Liberal government in Quebec means that now at long last the long-sought bill will be passed granting women the right to vote in provincial elections. Throughout the campaign Premier-elect Godbout repeatedly promised that he would bring in such a bill.

Women, and men also, in all parts of Canada will applaud Quebec when such a bill is passed. It will serve as another step toward Canadian unity. Nowhere else in Canada are women deprived of the right to vote. Indeed, nowhere on the North American continent are women subjected to the legal, political and professional disabilities that affect half the adult population of Quebec. Laws in that province classify women as minors, deny them the franchise, deny them, when married, the right to control their own property, and bar them from professions. When the suffrage bill is passed it will remove one of their disabilities and it will be a powerful reform which should aid in removing the others.

Quebec women have the right to vote in federal elections. This was extended to them in 1920, when the Dominion enfranchised all women 21 years of age who were British subjects. But the extension of the franchise in the province rests with the provincial Legislature. Dominion franchise was first given to women in 1917, but restricted only to those who were related to soldiers. Because of protest this was the next year extended to women who had provincial franchise, thus leaving out women in Quebec. In 1920, however, these were included in the federal act.

Across The Bay

By BRUCE HUTCHISON

OVERCOME

THE WORLD TRAGEDY quite overwhelmed the Legislature yesterday, rendered it not only incapable of business but almost incapable of speech, which is a very rare phenomenon here.

Messrs. Tom King of Columbia and Glen Braden of Peace River are competent representatives of their districts, good sound men. But under the double weight of the war and the responsibility of launching the first sessional debate, they folded up completely. The two of them combined could not fill up a complete hour and neither of them, speaking as they were by custom for the government, dared to utter in that time a single idea, suggestion or protest of his own.

It is evidently unfair to ask modest private members to launch the Throne Speech debate, for they feel tongue-tied, and unable to express their own thoughts. They feel they must express the government's thoughts and the thing naturally appals them. Thus, where Mr. King and Mr. Braden would normally talk about their own ridings and their own problems, which they understand, they felt called upon to talk for the government, which they don't.

Mr. King, who opened the first business day of the session, felt called upon, indeed, to go over the head of the government into a kind of cosmic review of our tortured civilization. His history of Munich, of Czechoslovakia, of Poland, was almost in the vein, though not quite, of a speech by Mr. Chamberlain in Parliament, or of a Ribbentrop at Danzig, or a Molotov at Moscow—complete, tremendous, but hardly what this Legislature is elected for. Its jurisdiction, after all, doesn't extend to Danzig yet.

THE NAIL KEG

MR. KING IS a likeable soul, a good member, an honest politician. He talks to the House as he would talk to customers in his general store in Golden, sitting on a nail keg. As he talks a single curl of his reddish hair starts to trail down his forehead and bounce about when he grows excited, and unconsciously he puts on and takes off his glasses. But he didn't get excited this time, and more's the pity, for under the excitement of the moment he has been known to make rather notable utterances of the nail-keg variety.

The government, which always instructs the opening speakers, had evidently told Mr. King to stay on a high plane and he did the job, as ordered. But the sudden leap from Golden to Danzig, from the nailkeg to the League of Nations, just wasn't in character. It sounded, as he went along, almost as if Mr. King of Golden had confused himself with Mr. King of Ottawa.

However, there may be some kind of strategy in the government's approach to the session through Mr. King. Perhaps it is trying to establish this early a background of patriotism in contrast to what it clearly considers the lukewarm-war attitude of the C.C.F. If so, Mr. King established it.

He was a lot more at home, however, when he came back from Danzig to Golden and talked briefly about the scenery up there and the tall jackpines, and the excellent Pattullo government, and the wisdom of all its ministers, and the satisfactory condition of everything in this best of all possible provinces. With a final prediction that democracy would come out of the war stronger than ever, Mr. King sat down, never having dared to get going on the things he knows and understands.

Mr. Braden was in the same plight. This was too bad, for he is one of the more promising young members, a clean-cut fellow from the high north. He could have talked at length of the farmers' problems. He could have given us a picture of the Peace River and its future, but he felt bound, by the duty of the day, to go into Poland and to discuss Hitler when actually we have no power to legislate on that question.

UP NORTH

HE WAS HAPPIER, TOO, when he got back from Poland and home to Peace River for a brief visit. He told a little of the Sudeten refugees who have settled there—cultured, well-to-do people who have been ruined by Hitler's purges and now are happy to settle on good Canadian soil, free of the secret police. He told of the Sudeten children who were accustomed to eating five times a day and now are trying to get used to our three meals.

He gave us some idea of the most serious immediate problem before Canada, the congestion of the wheat movement, as the elevators are filled and running over with a huge crop saleable at ruinously low prices. But he had high hopes that the wise policy of the Premier would result in the discovery of oil up in the Peace River country and a new prosperity up there.

When the afternoon was finished, nobody was in the least the wiser. Perhaps Mr. Maitland, scribbling notes all afternoon, was getting ready some heavier stuff for the morrow, and Dr. Telford was writing down ideas also. His white mane and disarming kepie smile had appeared in its old place, in the front row of the C.C.F., which caused some surprise, since he was supposed to have left that party and ascended into a special Nirvana of his own.

What this lonely man has in store for us no one could guess. All we know is that he promised last year to renew his New Westminster Bridge charges, with more evidence, and has never failed yet to provide a few hours of innocent delight for everybody.

War Without Battles—Whose Move Next?

By WALTER LIPPMANN

IF THERE is a mystery about the quiet on the Western Front, the explanation can only be found inside of Germany. The position of the Allies is clear enough. They have nothing to gain and everything to lose by waging an offensive war.

They are besieging Germany by sea and land, and their blockade is even more effective as the neutrals of northern Europe, the Balkans and the Mediterranean become more and more determined to resist being drawn into the war. But Hitler's position is not so clear. And the question would seem to be whether he is hesitating because he is undecided or whether he is waiting because he is preparing a great surprise.

THE PRUDENT assumption is that he is preparing some sort of attack, and that he is using these waiting tactics to tire out the Allies and throw them off their guard. If he does mean to launch an attack in force, say, by mass bombing, or by an invasion of Holland, Belgium, or Switzerland, or against the Maginot Line, or by the use of some new weapon, his chance to succeed would be greater if he could cause the Allies to relax their vigilance.

It would, therefore, be suicidal for the British and French to act on any other view of the situation than that there is just now a tactical lull before the great storm breaks. And they will never be sure that the storm is not going to break until the war is definitely concluded.

THIS VIEW IS NOT altogether inconsistent, however, with the belief that Hitler may in fact be hesitating. It may well be that he is genuinely puzzled and that he is waiting now, as he has so often waited in the past, to be inspired. Then, if his intuition tells him to attack, the present lull may help him to take his enemies by surprise; and if his intuition tells him that he must do something else, his army and his air force will not have been used up.

Though only Hitler and his immediate advisers really know whether he has made his decision, there are good reasons for thinking that he has not yet made it. Or perhaps it would be better to say that the reasons for hesitating would be good reasons for any normal statesman and for any patriotic German. They would even have been good reasons for Hitler himself until he reversed his whole policy and threw away the chart which he had followed so faithfully, and with such outward success, until the spring and summer of this year.

THE CONSIDERATION which must make any sane German pause before unleashing a total war in the west is that unless the attack brings a decisive and swift House Tuesday a ghastly constitutional blunder was committed. According to the most sacred rule of British parliaments, the Commons refuses to consider the King's speech until it has first transacted some of its own business. This is to recall King Charles' head and the supremacy of the people.

Well, they forgot King Charles' head on Tuesday. Mr. Wisner was all ready with it at the proper moment but he couldn't catch the Speaker's eye. King Charles' head, as in Mr. Dick's famous memorial, got into the wrong place, behind schedule, and the royal business was considered before the people's.

To correct this shocking error, which might well undermine the liberties of three centuries, the official chroniclers of the House proceedings secretly put King Charles' head into the proper place on the records and this polite fiction will go down into history and nobody but you will be the wiser.

and inexpensive victory, the impairment or destruction of the army will make the future of Germany extremely perilous. Hitler's Germany has no dependable ally and among all the nations of the world not a single friend. Italy, Japan, Spain and Hungary are estranged. Whatever may be the real intentions of Russia, it is certain that Germany cannot hope to deal successfully with Russia if the power of her army is seriously weakened.

A strong Germany may hope to divide eastern Europe with Russia and to fix a limit to the Russian advance into the west; a strong Germany may perhaps hope to obtain assistance from Russia. But a weak Germany could neither resist the advance, nor compel the respect, nor command the support, of Russia. Even with his army intact and with the prestige of his Polish campaign still high, Hitler has had to pay a staggering price for the Russian arrangement. There can be little doubt that if Germany were still weaker, the Russian price would be still higher.

WHEN WE EXAMINE the German position in the west, it becomes doubly evident that, unless there is almost perfect certainty of a swift, decisive and inexpensive victory, it would be a fatal blunder to attempt a great offensive. If it fails after what the Nazi propaganda calls a blood bath, the enraged democracies will be in no mood for an easy peace; but even more importantly, the German nation will have been deprived of the only sure guaranty against another Versailles. That guaranty is the German army. For if peace is concluded with the army still effectively in being, there will be a negotiated peace in which Germany would come to the conference table as a great power. But if Hitler shatters his army in the west, and then loses the war, Germany will be helpless as against the Russians in the east and the Allies on the west.

BARRING ALWAYS the chance of a lightning victory over the Allies, it is almost impossible to imagine how Hitler can extricate Germany from the dilemma in which he has placed her. In order to get peace in the west, Hitler and the Nazi Party must at the very minimum, abdicate in fact even if the improbable happens and a face-saving concession is made which does not require Hitler to abdicate in appearance. On the other hand, in order to make the partnership with Russia a thoroughgoing alliance, the Nazis would have to effect the final social revolution inside Germany by purging and liquidating the remaining conservatives in the army, the bureaucracy and business.

There are some who think that this is the road that Hitler is now fatally destined to take. But if he does take it, he will disorganize Germany by bolshevizing it, and Germany will still be on the horns of the dilemma: hopelessly dependent on Russia and at the mercy of the Allies.

THERE IS PERHAPS one more possibility and that is to wait, endure the Allied siege, and to hope that in a prolonged war of nerves the morale of the free peoples will be less firm than that of the regimented German nation. Hitler might decide to test out that notion. Then the outcome may depend not only upon whether the Allies can remain always alert and vigilant against a smashing surprise attack but also steadfast in waiting until their accumulated power is such that they will have won the war without having to fight a great battle.

THAT "HOLDING BACK" THREAT

From Seattle Times

The suggestion that Germany has up to date, minimized its submarine attacks on Allied ships will bear careful consideration.

Why should it withhold its hand if there is a chance to inflict heavy losses on its foes? Why not go out and do all the damage possible, in order to even up conditions at sea?

These are such commonsense questions that the thought Berlin actually has avoided ship sinkings because of a desire to impress, in particular, Britain with its desire for peace does not stand up very well.

The probabilities are that it has been doing just as great damage with its submarines at sea as it can. If it has not been as successful as it was during the period of "unrestricted sinkings" in the World War, it must be because the Allies have perfected a defense against the activities of the undersea boat.

WAR SONGS

From New York World-Telegram

A Berlin broadcast has denounced for "bad taste" the English soldier song which runs, "We're going to hang out the washing on the Siegfried line, if the Siegfried line's still there." It is, says the German announcer, mere empty bragging. Well, perhaps it isn't a very good song. But criticism of musical bragging comes strangely from a country which roars out "Deutschland Uber Alles" and gives its youth, as a marching song, "Today we own Germany, tomorrow all the world."

Better English

1. What is wrong with this sentence? "I shall try and do it."
2. What is the correct pronunciation of "gala"?
3. Which one of these words is misspelled? Porto Rico, Portugal, Pompadour, Potomac.
4. What does the word "affectation" mean?
5. What is a word beginning with per that means "to make everlasting"?

Answers

1. Say, "I shall try to do it."
2. Pronounce gay-la, final a as in ask unstressed, accent first syllable.
3. Pompadour.
4. Artificiality of manner or behavior. "He was a man singularly free from affectations."—O. W. Holmes.
5. Perpetuate.

"There is a certain relief in change, even though it be from bad to worse; as I have found in traveling in a stage-coach, that it is often a comfort to shift one's position and be bruised in a new place."—Washington Irving, "Tales of a Traveler."

Scottish Troops Are Entertained

A concert was presented under the auspices of the Pro Patria Branch of the Canadian Legion to the 16th Canadian Scottish unit at Otter Point last night.

A group of local artists and an eight-piece orchestra entertained the troops. Short addresses were given by Comrade R. Macnicol, secretary of the Provincial Command of the Canadian Legion at Vancouver, and W. C. Fyfe, president of the Pro Patria Branch, Victoria.

The program was arranged by J. Petticrew, who acted as master of ceremonies. Artists contributing to the program were: T. Crabbe, baritone; Holmes and Anderson, instrumental novelties; R. Stoffer, impersonations and cowboy songs;

D. Shepherd, piano-acordion solos; J. Gow, novelty act, and Stan James, comedian.

After the concert, refreshments were served.

Shingle Shipments

It is estimated that by November 11 the red cedar shingle quota granted in the Canada-United States Trade Agreement of 1938 will be slightly overshipped. With the hope that none of their United States customers will be seriously inconvenienced, 95 per cent of British Columbia shingle mills have voluntarily decided to cease shipment of shingles from November 11 to January 1. If shipments were made, shingles would become a tariff item and excess shipments would incur an ad valorem tariff levied by the United States Government.

A car selling for $160 and capable of doing 50 miles per hour and getting 60 miles to the gallon is now selling well in France.

Oppose New Act For Contractors

The Trades and Labor Council last night voted its disapproval of the proposed contractors' licensing act for British Columbia, and will forward its opinion to Attorney-General Gordon Wismer.

The council expressed a desire to be heard if the bill should be sent to the private bills committee at the current session. There were several objections which members made when a draft copy of the Legislation was read to the meeting, but chief among them was that restricting journeymen from entering the contracting business.

The set up of the board of administration and its method of appointment was also under criticism.

An enjoyable Hallowe'en party was held by the members of the Oak Bay Young People's Association on Tuesday evening. A short business period resulted in the election of Steve Bailey as delegate to the provincial conference to be held in New Westminster on the week-end of November 11-12. Steve Bailey gave an interesting paper on the origin of the custom of Hallowe'en. This was followed by numerous suitable games and riddles, after which refreshments were served. Next week's meeting will take the form of an open forum on "The Attitude of Young People to War."

Says Germany On Verge of Collapse

Erika Mann Tells Seattle Audience Of Conditions There

SEATTLE—Erika Mann, self-exiled German, noted author and lecturer, and daughter of the great German writer, Thomas Mann, who wrote "Joseph in Egypt," said in a lecture here yesterday "Germany as a whole is on the verge of a complete breakdown."

"Health conditions are terrible. There's little inspection of food, there's much food poisoning. There is a great scarcity of meat; most of the people are suffering from inadequate nutrition, overwork, lack of disinfectants, lack of hygienic conditions."

"This winter would have finished Hitler, if he had not gone to war. That's why he wanted war before winter set in. The German people could not have stood another winter such as those they've suffered in the last few years."

"This war will not end with the death of civilization. Civilization will not be overthrown and destroyed by bombs and guns. I shudder to think of the destruction that is imminent in this war but civilization is a moral, spiritual achievement that cannot perish."

NAZIISM GUILTY

"Nazism is guilty and Nazism must disappear for the sake of civilization. It already has ruined Germany and ruined people cannot fight a winning war. The end will come with the death of the deadly enemy."

"The German family has been attacked and conquered—they are educating the children along much the same lines as they educated us during the last war. I was 8 years old then. We were taught that the Kaiser was next to God and that Germany was the only country and that other countries were degenerate. Then after Germany was defeated we found out the Kaiser was not next to God, but in Holland, and that Germany was, indeed, not the only country. I think there will be a similar awakening for the German youth of today after Germany's defeat—Nazism is a fake and a failure."

In answer to a question, Miss Mann said, "I would be killed if I returned to Germany."

Japanese Growers To Aid Red Cross

The Japanese amateur chrysanthemum growers of Victoria will hold their annual chrysanthemum show in the new store at 725 Pandora Avenue, from Monday next until Saturday.

This year the show promises to be better than ever, and the hall will be filled to capacity with a large display of the finest varieties to be seen anywhere.

Among the newer varieties, many of which have not been seen here before, are Thanksgiving Pink, Golden Queen, William Turner, Mrs. H. S. Firestone, David Lloyd George, Big Chief, Evening Star and Detroit Treasure.

New Cascade varieties, which have been imported from Japan lately, include Butterfly, Shiramul, Gosh-Sakura, and amongst the older varieties will be seen Miss Nippon, Takasago, Miyashima and Mikado.

The show will be open each day and evening. Collection. Net proceeds will be donated to the Canadian Red Cross Society.

Posies Zip Too

PARIS—Zipper bunches of flowers that close up the front of plain afternoon dresses are new neck notes in France.

War threat overhangs the Balkans; it isn't the most pleasant prospect for a queen-to-be. One-year-old, Sophia, daughter of Crown Princess Frederica and Crown Prince Paul of Greece, grows in a Europe gone mad. But the little princess appears happy as she poses for birthday picture with mother at Athens.

Jubilee Alumnae's Bazaar Success

The Nurses' Home of the Royal Jubilee Hospital was a hive of activity yesterday afternoon when the Alumnae Association held its annual bazaar and silver tea, netting the handsome sum of about $160.

Mrs. Edwin Tomlin, wife of the president of the hospital board, formally opened the affair and was presented with a beautiful corsage bouquet of pink carnations. Mrs. J. H. Russell, president of the alumnae, welcomed the guests, assisted by Mrs. W. H. Bullock-Webster and Mrs. L. S. V. York.

The tea table, prettily arranged with chrysanthemums, was presided over by Mrs. R. J. Jameson, president of the Senior W.A. of the hospital, and by Miss Vida Shandley, president of the Junior W.A.

Mrs. R. Hawkes was general convener, and was assisted by Mrs. W. Tucker, Mrs. J. M. Hamilton, Mrs. D. McLeod, Mrs. W. Burnett, Mrs. R. Godtel, Mrs. D. Smith and Miss H. Latorell. A novelty stall was conducted by Mrs. M. E. Langford, Mrs. G. Bothwell, Miss E. Rose and Miss M. Dickson; candy stall, attractively decorated in the alumnae colors, mauve and gold, was in charge of Miss Barbara Player and Mrs. N. McConnell. The home cooking table was under the direction of Mrs. G. M. Duncan and Mrs. L. Leal; handkerchief stall, Mrs. W. Stephen and Miss F. Winter. Miss Margery Thomas, Miss B. Hickman, Miss Putnam, Miss Lind and Mrs. R. Fox had charge of games and contests, darts being a favorite during the afternoon.

Two vocal solos, "Rose in the Bud" and "Just a Wearyin' for You" were sung by Miss J. Duncan, and the accompaniments were played by Miss H. Keyworth. Mrs. Carter told fortunes, and the winners of prizes in the various contests were Mrs. Fairley, Miss Muckle, Miss Main, Dr. Ireland, Mrs. A. Watt, Mrs. W. Rose and Miss Muttlow. Four persons guessed the correct weight of the cake, and a draw for the winner will be made.

The Junior Mission Circle of the Emmanuel Baptist Church sponsored a Hallowe'en Penny Fair recently, this event being held in the church hall. Hallowe'en decorations were carried out most effectively. Miss Gladys Rowley, the president, was in charge of the program, and Miss Opal Abercrombie, the general convener. The attractive candy and novelty stall was in charge of Miss Vera Browning, while Miss Evelyn Rhodes delighted the children with the "bran pie."

Miss Vera Parfitt and Miss Beryl Earl had charge of the games and Miss Mary Wilson assisted by Miss Edna Kirkbride showed some interesting moving pictures. Other attractions on the program included novelty numbers by Misses Joan, Hazel and Vera Pearson, vocal solos by Miss Vera Parfitt; elocution by Miss Abercrombie, and instrumental music by Miss Margaret Spence, Miss Lilian Parfitt and Miss Florence Rowley. Refreshments were served at the close, this being in charge of Miss Irene Scoble and Miss Mary Hancock.

Clubwomen's News

Daughters of St. George Princess Patricia Lodge, No. 238, will meet tomorrow evening at 8 in the K. of C. Hall, members to bring refreshments.

The committee of the First Spiritualist Church will hold a silver tea Friday afternoon in the S.O.E. Hall, 1216 Broad Street, from 2.30 till 5. Mrs. C. P. Milne will convene the tea, assisted by Mrs. E. R. Etheridge and Mrs. E. Fanthorpe, Mrs. Johnson reading cards and Mrs. Frampton reading tea cups.

The evening branch of St. Mary's W. A. Oak Bay, will hold their annual sale of work on Saturday in St. Mary's Hall, from 3 to 6. The sale will be opened by Mrs. Elliott, wife of the Dean of Columbia. Plain and fancy work, novelties, home cooking, fish pond, hat trimming competition, and a garden stall are some of the attractions provided by the members. Afternoon tea will be served.

The October meeting of the Ladies' Aid of Belmont Avenue United Church was held at the home of Mrs. Wellwood, McNeil Street. Mrs. Butler, the president, was in the chair, and 18 members present. The visiting committee reported they had made 21 calls during the month. The recent Thanksgiving supper was reported a huge success, both socially and financially. Plans are being made to hold the annual bazaar on Wednesday, December 6, at 7.30. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Williams, Carrick Street.

ST. MARY'S A.Y.P.A.

St. Mary's A.Y.P.A. held a Hallowe'en social yesterday which took the form of a scavenger hunt, after which refreshments were served. The final arrangements are being made for the annual dance to be held on November 15, at St. Mary's Hall, Yale St.

FOR PRAIRIE RELIEF

The Columbia W.A. have received word that prairie relief is urgently needed. Clean garments for the people of the drought-ridden areas will be welcomed at Room 22 or Room 7, Memorial Hall. The next shipment will be sent to Mrs. Myatt, Saskatoon, as soon as enough garments are received.

When two lives are at stake call in a QUALITY food

EXPECTANT and nursing mothers have two lives to think of...a double need for the kind of easily-digestible, tissue-building and nerve-strengthening food that finds supreme expression in Ovaltine.

This famous food-beverage blends malt and milk and eggs in scientific proportions. Every ingredient is protected and tested for high quality. Ovaltine comes as close to perfection as Nature and human skill can bring it. Expectant mothers who start taking Ovaltine from the first and continue through pregnancy and after, are assured of a plentiful flow of the rich mother's milk upon which babies thrive best.

Doctors Prescribe Ovaltine For an Ample Flow of Milk

Doctors, nurses and mothers testify that when Ovaltine is taken by the mother before and after the birth an adequate supply of rich milk is assured. The mother is enabled to maintain her strength and to feed baby easily and naturally. Nutritional diseases, such as rickets, are prevented and baby is assured of happiness and healthy development.

Opie Read, Famous Writer, Dies at 86

CHICAGO (AP)—Opie Read, 86, last of a pioneer American literary line that included Mark Twain, Eugene Field and James Whitcomb Riley, died today of infirmities induced by September's extreme heat. He would have been 87 December 22.

The genial wit, novelist and raconteur died in the South Side home of Mrs. Belle King, widow of a devoted friend of yore, where for many years celebrities and obscure persons fraternized at open house celebrations of Read's birthday anniversaries.

On his 86th birthday last year Mr. Read said "I honestly believe we should never be governed by anyone who has not known the influence of great books—to my way of thinking, profound leadership comes from the man who has in his mind the influence of noble literature."

He said he was better acquainted with himself at 86 and added, "I haven't that old self-confidence and cockiness."

Opie Read was still in his thirties when critics began to call him the foremost delineator of southern character.

He had scarcely entered on his most fertile period of writing when he and Eugene Field were nominated as "the two brightest stars" in Chicago's literary galaxy.

Back in the eighties wherever newspapers were read, the plantation songs and stories of Opie Read were familiar. Melodies remembered from his own plantation boyhood, folk tales of the Tennessee hills and quaint ditty dialogues seemed to flow from his heart to his pen. Soon the editors throughout the land were quoting odd bits from his "Arkansas Traveler."

He worked for the Franklin, Ky., Patriot in 1873 and paid his tuition through Neophogen College by setting type on the college paper.

Advancing age seemed no deterrent to the "prince of story tellers." At 76 he wrote "The Gold Gauze Vell" which his publishers called his best work. The story, opening in the Civil War days, was regarded as Mr. Read's autobiography. In it he told of the lure of gold that had held his enthusiasm for long.

Mr. Read was born at Nashville, Tenn., the youngest of ten children of Guilford and Elizabeth Wallace Read. He was reared through his boyhood on his father's plantation at Gallatin. On June 30, 1881, he married Miss Ada Benham, sister of ten partner. They had three sons, Philo, Leslie and Guilford, and three daughters, Mrs. Harriet Blue, Mrs. Elaine Green and Enid Ada Read. The last named died at the age of 24.

Opie Read was the author of "Len Gansett," "A Kentucky Colonel," "Old Ebenezer," "A Yankee from the West," "In the Alamo," "The Carpet-bagger (with Frank Pixley)," "An American in New York," "Son of the Swordmaker," "The Mystery of Margaret," and other volumes.

BUILD UP THE CHILDREN

CHATHAM, Ont.—Mrs. Charlotte Lee of 42 Ingham St. says: "After an illness one of my children was very weak and underweight. I gave him Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and his appetite improved and he regained his strength. This splendid tonic never failed to help build the children up when they were weak after bad colds. I certainly recommend it to mothers with growing children." Gay Orlova, Russian dancer, deported from the United States two years ago, was arrested as a spy and later released by French authorities at a village near the Maginot Line. It is reported from Europe. She is said to have slipped into the village to meet her estranged husband, a French count, now on active service. Miss Orlova was formerly an associate of Charles "Lucky" Luciano, New York racket leader, who was sent to prison in Thomas E. Dewey's anti-vice drive in the United States.

Captured Germans Heard To Blame Hitler for War

By PIERRE LA MAZIERE
Hayas Staff Writer

WITH THE FRENCH FORCES IN THE MAGNOT LINE—This correspondent has just returned from talking with German war prisoners lodged in a camp established in the outskirts of a large Lorraine town.

It is a clearing camp to which officers and soldiers are brought after being subjected to preliminary questioning in the front lines with a view to obtaining possible tactical information of immediate value.

When the men are brought to the behind-the-lines place of internment they undergo exhaustive grilling on a wide range of topics. In this way French experts obtain a sample of opinion and morale within the German ranks.

Most of the prisoners in the camp visited by the writer are fliers, to be distinguished from ordinary soldiers only by the fact that their helmets bear above the chin-strap a special emblem—a winged wheel surmounted by the Nazi swastika. All wear the regular field-grey uniforms of the Reich forces.

Prisoners though they are, these men continue to show the admirable discipline characteristic of the German military. It is difficult to obtain any information of military worth from them.

BLAME HITLER

On political subjects, however, they are more loquacious. Some are strongly anti-Nazi and blame Adolf Hitler for the war. Others—both party members and non-party men—are staunchly loyal to the Fuehrer and his regime.

A French officer who guided the correspondent through the camp said, "their morale is quite high, it must be admitted. They fought—those, at least, who knew they were at war, for many of them didn't know it—to carry out their orders to the dot, and no more."

In the correspondent's presence, the officer questioned a captured flier on the impression provoked in Germany by Hitler's agreement with Soviet Russia.

"As things now stand," the prisoner replied, "there is very little difference between National Socialism and Communism."

A Bavarian reservist, about 30, said he had no idea there was a war on the western front until September 14. He thought he was at manoeuvres when he was sent to the German Westwall, he said.

LOST CONFIDENCE

Another Bavarian reservist, about 40, said the people in his part of Germany had long ago lost all confidence in the Nazi regime. The first he knew there was a war, he said, was when he was taken prisoner September 15.

Five privates of the regular German army declared, one after the other, that in their opinion Hitler was to blame for the war.

On the other hand, a young second lieutenant, downed September 24, said: "I am not a member of the Nazi party, but I entirely approve its doctrine and policy. I don't believe the war will become intensified between France and Germany. If that should happen, however, it would be all over before the end of the year."

The correspondent was also permitted to see letters found on the Germans when they were captured.

STRIPPED OF GOODS

One letter, written September 10 by a German father to his son in the Westwall, said: "We hope and pray to God that all will remain quiet in the west. The war won't be long then."

"How much those who have been stripped of all their goods have to complain about! We hope we'll be spared that. Bread and potatoes are still on the market, but everything else can be bought only with cards."

"We receive a quarter of a ton of coal a month, but that won't be enough. They have already come twice and requisitioned our horses—21 head altogether, I think."

"Some of the youngest men have left, and 'they' have called up the 19-year-olds. I could tell you a lot more, but I can't trust too much to paper."

A non-commissioned officer of the German infantry received the following letter: "The present situation is fraying our nerves just as it is fraying yours. Every day we hope, but every day in vain. I don't see, either, that the western powers are coming around. You are right. This war, which isn't being fought to the limit or even half-way, is over-exciting the nerves of everyone, especially the refugees from the Saar. In my opinion the British and French won't yield."

Hitlers' Victims Pledge Nazis' End

LONDON (CP)—The "German Freedom Station" has broadcast a pledge in the name of Hitler's victims in Germany that the fight for the liberation of the Reich from the Nazi party will continue.

The message, broadcast yesterday, was in the form of an All Saints' Day memorial tribute to the memory of the victims of the Nazi government.

"We take this solemn oath as fighters for freedom in all parts of Germany who have been slaughtered by Hitler," the broadcast said, "that we will not rest until they are avenged."

"The day shall come when a real people's tribunal will meet to try all the culprits. We shall be unsparring, but just. Lists of judges who as public prosecutors allowed themselves to be misused by Hitler have already been compiled."

"We cannot honor the dead better than by devoting our lives to the overthrow of the Nazi regime."

A plant that grows 11 feet tall and has yellow, bell-like flowers has been brought to the San Francisco Fair from ruins of the Incan city of Machu Picchu in Peru.

RACE HORSE of the year. Yesterday William L. Brann's Chalcedon returned to his native state to capture the Pimlico special from Charles S. Howard's Kayak II and Townsend B. Martin's Cravat. Chalcedon, rated one of the finest mudders in the history of the American track, lived up to his reputation and after being looked in the face and passed by the Argentine-bred thoroughbred of Howard's, came on again in the stretch to win. Cravat, which did nothing more than fill out the three-horse race, was never in the picture. Previous to yesterday's start Chalcedon had captured the year's three-year-old championship.

By his victory Chalcedon added $10,000 to his earnings for a total of $252,235. This record boosted him into 14th position in the all-time list of thoroughbred winners. The additional 10 grand placed the Maryland colt above the great Man o' War whose lifetime total stands at $249,465. Chalcedon's record is 19 starts and only out of the money twice over a two-year period.

Yesterday we saw motherhood in the truest sense of the word. Paying a visit to the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. F. Davy we were privileged in being allowed to handle 11 little bodies of soft, silky smoothness in the form of pointer puppies, while a proud and friendly mother looked on. "Trixie," as she is known to her friends, gave to the world 14 babies but three of them failed to come through the first few days in a strange world and passed on to the beyond that calls to all creatures of nature, young and old.

Fortunately for Mrs. Trixie she is being given some assistance by her owners in the matter of feeding the large litter. Mrs. Davy informed us she has become quite expert with an eye-dropper and since the arrival of the pups on Sunday has been feeding the small members. When it comes to feeding time with Trixie it is certainly a question of the survival of the fittest and the manner in which these little blind bundles of fur scrap for their turn is a sight worth watching.

Trouble with Larry MacPhail's major league eight-playoff plan, including one between the St. Louis Browns and Phillies, for example, is that nobody, including the noble athletes, would be interested. . . . Brooklyn's general manager professes to want to definitely determine big league supremacy . . . which makes him the only baseball man who has any lingering doubt about the top-heaviness on the American League side.

For the first time in 65 runnings, which takes pedaling patrons 'way back there, a six-day bicycle race in New York has been cut to five days . . . at the Garden, November 6 to 11. . . . Streamlining the grind to nowhere in its strongest centre in the United States, is a sign of the times. . . . Six-day bike racing is passing out like wrestling some experts claim. . . . And the fact that Gustav Kilian and Heinz Vopel of Germany are the only outstanding foreign riders missing gives some idea of where war pressure is heaviest.

Of the 88 clubs in the English Football League only six are not taking part in the current tournament. They are Aston Villa, Exeter City, Ipswich Town, Gateshead, Derby County and Sunderland. The first four clubs mentioned stated that they would not take part some time ago but Sunderland and Derby County are not playing any war-time football because of financial reasons. Derby County previously agreed to participate in the tournament if attendances justified the step. They played one friendly match, however, and less than 2,000 people attended. The takings were insufficient to pay expenses.

NEW YORK (AP)—Broadway saw one of its favorite sons reach the end of the road in Madison Square Garden last night—and it wasn't a pretty sight.

Old and ring-wise Tony Canzoneri, veteran of 166 stirring battles, was belted into oblivion by the stinging left hand of a young Brooklyn kid, placid Al Davis, in the third round of a scheduled 10-rounder in the same arena where his fight with Al Singer set an attendance record back in 1928, the same ring where he lost the featherweight title to Andre Routis, the same ring where he won the light-weight title from Singer in 1930.

Afterwards the Canzoneri dressing room was like a tomb in sharp contrast to the stuffy quarters where Davis changed into street togs.

"Well, it had to come sometime," Tony mumbled through a cut lip. His followers nodded sadly. He said he hadn't any plans but when asked if this was his last fight he looked glumly up and said, "Gosh, I hope so."

His right eye was badly damaged from the blows of Davis, the smiling slugged.

A momentary roar from the crowd of 12,750 greeted the end of the Canzoneri saga, and they filed out almost as though they were passing Tony's bier, shocked and stunned that the end had come so quickly to their idol.

Early in the third round, Davis knocked Tony wobbly with a thunderous left hand. Tony flopped to the floor, but managed to get up at the count of three. The husky Davis hurtled across the ring and blasted him again with another flurry and felled him again with a numbing left.

He struggled up at six, but Referee Arthur Donovan, waving the eager Davis away, put his arm around Tony, and led him to his corner.

The fight ended officially at 2:13 of the third round, and drew a gate of $30,793.09, of which Davis and Tony will take about $8,500 apiece.

At 135½ Marquhart gave away 5½ pounds. It was his 19th K.O. in the 47 fights he has had since turning professional three years ago. Only four of them have been losing starts.

A looping left and right cross dropped Beauhuid in 45 seconds of the first round but the Manitoban was over-anxious in trying for the kill as Beauhuid wobbled up and a right the latter lifted off the floor dumped Marquhart for a six-count.

For the rest of the round the Jerseyman fought like a juggernaut and only a stout heart kept Marquhart up until the bell. It was different in the second when the 23-year-old Winnipegger smashed over a staggering flurry of leather to the head.

The American, one of the heaviest clouters in his class, never quit trying but Marquhart kept him always on defence, then pulled the fuse on his big bertha in the fifth.

Stopped Fishing When They Got 'Limit'

An indication of the fine grise fishing Saanich Inlet is offering at present was the catch of 20 by Jack Elliott and Jimmy Phillips, chief clerk and head porter, respectively, of the Empress Hotel, on Tuesday. And they could have got plenty more, too, but they thought there was a limit of 20 fish to a boat and stopped at that number. They were using spinner and worm and abalone spoons.

There is no limit on salmon or grise except from January 1 to May 31.

so it was decided not to compete. The club's overdraft at the bank is $30,000.

The directors of Sunderland estimated by closing down that their annual expenditure will be reduced to £2,000. At present there is an overdraft at the banks, and an outstanding liability of tax amounting to something like £5,000. Arsenal and Birmingham will not be able to play any matches at home. The Arsenal ground is being used as a physical training centre while the Chief Constable of Birmingham will not, so far, allow any football in that city. Arsenal, however, have arranged to play their home matches at White Hart Lane, Tottenham Hotspur's ground, but Birmingham will have to play their home fixtures on their opponent's grounds.

League Shuttle Draw Announced

Teams in the various divisions of the Lower Vancouver Badminton League will swing into action for divisional laurels during the middle of the month. G. C. Barber, secretary, announced last evening.

Fourteen clubs have entered for play in the five sections. Majority of them are in the fourth and fifth divisions. Christ Church and Lake Hill are two new clubs that have filed their entries.

First round draw was announced last night as follows:

FIRST DIVISION
November 17—Willows vs. Brentwood.

SECOND DIVISION
November 18—Victoria vs. Naimo.

THIRD DIVISION
November 16—North Saanich vs. Y.M.C.A.

FOURTH DIVISION
Christ Church vs. Victoria.

FIFTH DIVISION
Sooke vs. Lake Hill.

Matches will be played on the courts of the first-mentioned clubs.

Spokane Out of Hockey League

VANCOUVER (CP)—The in again, out-again Spokane Clippers of the Pacific Coast Hockey League claim they're out again, but league president Fred (Cyclone) Taylor assures their owner, Art Run, his team is still "welcome" in the league setup.

In Spokane yesterday, Rud said the last effort to keep Clippers in the league apparently has failed, even though Spokane backers had provided plenty of money to finance the year's operations.

Taylor, however, said here that "we'll take them if they want to come in during the next couple of days or so."

The difficulty seems to centre around a group of Spokane players, including winger Owen Lennon, reported sold to Guy Patrick's Vancouver Lions Tuesday.

WITH OTHER TEAMS
The Clippers' backers asked that Lennon, Vic Ripley, Ernie Kenney and Sammy McAdam remain with Clippers. They are lined up now with other teams in the circuit.

Spokane was willing to allow Connie King, star clipper centre and manager last year, to remain with Seattle as manager of Phil Lyette's Sea Hawks.

That proposal was outlined at a meeting Sunday in Seattle, attended by Bobby Rowe of Portland Buckaroos, Patrick and Lyette.

Tuesday morning, Rud said, he received a telegram from Rowe, sent after a discussion between the Vancouver, Spokane, and Portland mentors, which advised Spokane to "forget about hockey for this year."

Patrick, back in Vancouver yesterday, gave a hint to one reason for rejection of Spokane's proposal.

"If Spokane wants to go out and buy a team strong enough to compete with ours, okay."

"The way things stand now, we have our clubs all lined up and we are perfectly satisfied."

LONGDEN RIDING WELL AT EMPIRE

NEW YORK (AP)—Johnny Longden, diminutive veteran of the saddle who was born in Taber, Alta., and learned to ride in western Canada, continued his winning ways at Empire City yesterday.

He has ridden one or more winners each day since the fall season opened and had a double to show for his latest effort. Winning it, he piloted Boola Brook home first in the Best Love Purse for his 12th win of the meeting. He also booted home Erect in the second.

LUNCH TIME FOR 11 HEALTHY PUPS—Yesterday the Times cameraman paid a visit to the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. F. Davy, Beaver Street, just in time to get a picture of their pointer "Trixie" feeding her litter of 11. Last Sunday the bitch gave birth to 14 youngsters but three of them died. This morning the litter was reduced to 10 when one of the little fellows was accidentally killed while the mother was moving around in her quarters. Report on the remainder of the family was "all doing fine." The sire of the dogs is Sport, owned by L. Hayes, Dallas Road.

French Filly Wins

NEWMARKET, Eng. (CP)—Sir Alfred Butt's Cantatrice II, a filly by Filter out of Queen Iselt, today won the Cesarewitch, defeating F. Haslam's Cheerful Star by four lengths. James Rank's Black Speck was third, a length farther back.

Cantatrice II started at 7 to 2 and Cheerful Star and Black Speck each at 20 to 1. A field of 35 ran. Sir Hugo Cunliffe-Owen's Finish having been withdrawn at the post. Other late scratches were Verjus and Brocanteur.

The race, originally scheduled for October 25, was postponed on account of the war. The distance was cut from the traditional two miles, two furlongs to two miles, 24 yards. It was run over the summer course as the winter circuit is being used for military purposes.

The win was another triumph for French-bred racers as Cantatrice II won in a canter, covering the distance in 3 minutes 32.15 seconds. The field was only two short of the record set in 1882.

The French filly, regarded as "a handicap certainty," raced to the front below the distance, increased her lead on the rising ground and easily held off Cheerful Star's challenge. Fulano was fourth, Morar and Sierra Nevada last.

English Eleven to Meet Welsh Nov. 11
LONDON (CP)—English and Welsh soccer elevens will meet at Cardiff, November 11, in the first unofficial international match of the war. The squads selected are at peacetime strength and the proceeds of the contest will go to the Red Cross.

The teams:
England: Goal, Woodley (Chelsea); backs, Bacuzzi (Fulham), Hapgood (Arsenal); halfbacks, Grayston (Arsenal), J. Oakes (Charlton Athletic), Fenton (West Ham United); forwards, L. Smith (Brentford), W. Hall (Tottenham Hotspurs), L. Compton (Arsenal), Goulden (West Ham United), R. Smith (Millwall).

Wales: Goal, John (Swansea Town); backs, Turner (Charlton Athletic), Whately (Tottenham Hotspurs); halfbacks, Green (Charlton Athletic), T. G. Jones (Everton), Dearson (Birmingham); forwards, Hopkins (Brentford), Astley (Blackpool), Glover (Plymouth Argyle), Bryan Jones, Cunnor (Arsenal).

Staceys Win Over Varsity Hoopsters

VANCOUVER (CP)—Staceys chalked up their first win of the intercity basketball loop last night by defeating University of British Columbia 39 to 28.

Staceys lost their first game of the 1939 series to Maple Leafs 40 to 37, Saturday. It was Varsity's first match.

With Varsity down 28 to 32 and pressing in the final quarter, Pete Williamson, lanky Stacey ace, broke loose to snare three field baskets and add-on a free shot to salt the game away.

DOG SHOW DECEMBER 2

The Vancouver Island Dog Fanciers' Association dog show will be held December 2, not this Saturday as previously announced. It will be held in the Crystal Garden.

CINCINNATI—Johnny Stevens, 139, Cincinnati, outpointed Frankie Terranova, 139½, New York.

Major Hockey Campaign Gets Under Way Tonight

Chess Champion Thrills Audience

The local chess world was held spellbound last night as it watched Georges Koltanowski, touring Belgian chess wizard, in action in the Dominion Hotel lobby pitted against the strongest devotees of the game—Victoria could muster for the exhibition.

Victory High School scored its second straight win over Victoria College in an interschool soccer game yesterday afternoon. Last week the High won 2 to 1 but yesterday they swamped College 5 to 1.

High School was on the offensive most of the game, and in the first half ran in three goals. Ted Minnis scoring the first two and Louie McCorkall the other. In the second half Dick Donaghy and Alex Watson added a goal apiece and just before the end Tom Gush saved College from a whitewash.

Hockey Gossip

Slowly but surely the Maroon influence is fading from the ranks of the Canadiens. With the trading of Herbie Cain for Charlie Sands of Boston Bruins, only one of six Maroons who joined the Flying Frenchmen last season remains—the veteran Cy Wentworth.

When the Maroons disbanded last season, leaving only one National Hockey League team in Montreal, the Canadiens grabbed six of their former intra-city rivals. But Fate didn't seem to favor the mixture of Maroons and the Habitants and by next season even Wentworth will probably hang up his skates.

Of the four other Maroons who joined the Canadiens, Stew Evans has retired and Jimmy Ward now coaches New Haven Eagles, Canadiens' farm club. Bob Gracie is chasing pucks in the minors and Des Smith is now property of Chicago. Black Hawks on an option technically.

Toronto Maple Leafs appear before their home fans tonight for the first time in an inter-club charity bout, but Manager Conny Smythe has been denied the privilege of presenting his latest kid line. Until Don Metz suffered an ankle injury the yannigan combination of Metz, Billy Taylor and Red Heron was ready for its Maple Leaf Gardens debut.

Unless Manager Red Dutton changes his mind New York Americans will present a David-and-Goliath defence combination. The David half will be provided by Al Murray, hockey's mightiest mite, and Dutton is satisfied Chuck Conacher is the man to play beside Little Al. The Big Bomber is experiencing difficulty in acclimating himself to a defence post after a career as a winger but Dutton is certain Chuck will make good.

The A's are back in Port Arthur, feeling perky after handling New York Rangers two straight lickings. They'll face some of Canada's classiest amateurs Saturday when they meet Port Arthur Bear Cats, Allan Cup holders, in an exhibition affair.

Lark's Mark Up Third Victory

Little Larks marked up their third straight victory in second division table tennis last night to retain their leadership berth. They handed Aces a 32 to 4 defeat.

Beaten last week by the Larks, Sylvester U-Drive found their stride again last night and defeated Royal Arcanums, 20 to 16. The U-Drives and Arcanums are sharing second spot in the standings.

All members of the Larks team displayed fine form, Campbell and Elworthy scoring eight victories apiece and Prior and McGregor seven and six, respectively.

Sylvesters were led to victory by Tommy Kay who posted six wins. Leading scorers on the Arcanum team were Kenny Lawson with seven wins and "Scotty" McKenzie with six.

Individual scores follow:
Little Larks—Singles: Prior 7, Elworthy 8, Campbell 8, McGregor 6. Doubles: Prior and Elworthy 1, Campbell and McGregor 2.

Aces—Singles: B. Shade 0, Miss B. Shade 0, Gagliardi 2, T. Crombie 1. Doubles: Miss B. Shade and T. Crombie 0, B. Shade and Gagliardi 1.

Sylvester U-Drive—Singles: A. Sead 4, B. Sead 4, Erickson 3, Kay 6. Doubles: A. and B. Sead 2, Erickson and Kay 1.

Royal Arcanum—Singles: McKenzie 6, Lawson 7, Pretty 2, Kay 0. Doubles: McKenzie and Lawson 1, Pretty and Kay 0.

Patsy O. Shadywood, Vandy, Jeanette K. Penny, Chum, Mary Cardinal, Shasta Buddy, Cleo's Pride.

Chicago Will Act Host to Detroit Club

TORONTO (CP)—Made over into younger and more aggressive forces, Detroit Red Wings and Chicago Black Hawks open the National Hockey League schedule tonight while the more highly-rated clubs finish preparations for the long winter.

The Wings and the Hawks, who finished fifth and seventh, respectively last season, meet at Chicago in a contest that should tell something of what their big summer dealings have done. The rest of the clubs get their baptisms within the week.

Not in years has the league known so many off-season sales and trades. Detroit and Chicago, along with New York Americans and Toronto Maple Leafs, have been leaders in the making-over, but the world champion Boston Bruins and New York Rangers and Montreal Canadiens have gone shopping too.

As late as last night the Bruins announced they had traded Charlie Sands, a right wingman, to the Canadiens for left wingman Herbie Cain. A leg injury and illness kept Sands out of the Stanley Cup finals last spring when Boston knocked off Toronto in five games of a series scheduled to go seven.

The schedule lasts until March 17, when Detroit will be playing in Chicago again. Then the leader in the standings will be declared league champion and will enter the knockout competition for the world title along with five of the other six teams. Boston won the N.H.L. championship before going on to the Stanley Cup last spring.

Says Grounding Issues Answered

H. L. Taylor, provincial inspector of electrical energy, in a letter to the city clerk today, stated he had answered all questions he could out of the list provided by Alderman B. J. Gadsden in the latter's move to place on record certain information regarding disconnection here of groundings by the B.C. Electric Railway.

OPINIONS GIVEN

W. B. McMicking, in a list of answers to Alderman Gadsden's questions, said, in part, that he considered the electrical distribution system used in Victoria "reasonably safe."

In another reply he stated "the underground water piping forms a perfect grid for grounding purposes and is a valuable asset to the supply company. There is nothing preventing the supply company from installing their own external grounding system of rods and grids in conformity with practice in other cities in this province. The same protective features would prevail."

In his opinion "the groundings of alternating current networks of low voltages, whether they be external or internal to the water piping, cause no damage to the system."

At another point he said the majority of company groundings were disconnected during 1939.

Other matters in his report were, in general, of a technical nature.

Tax Collection Up

Percentage collection of Victoria's taxes during the first 10 months of this year stands higher than it has been for that period since 1932, according to a statement issued at the City Hall today.

At the end of October, 79.52 per cent of the $1,546,825.49 levy was paid. At the same date last year, when the levy was $1,613,658.83, the percentage collection was 78.99. As a result of the reduced levy this year the cash collections were naturally slightly down. The respective figures were $1,229,763.74 for 1939, against $1,274,621.13 at October 31, 1938.

With further tax payments definitely assured, D. A. MacDonald, city comptroller-treasurer, expressed conviction the final percentage collection would exceed the 83 per cent paid in last year.

In the arrears division the picture was even more rosy. At the beginning of this year a total of $498,364.36 was outstanding. Of that, $246,704.23, or 49.5 per cent, has been collected. At January 1, 1938, the sum outstanding was $564,236.85. By the end of October that year $255,578.02, or 45.3 per cent, had been paid in.

The second 1 per cent penalty applied on current taxes outstanding went into force today. Another 1 per cent will be added November 16 and the final charge, 3 per cent, will be applied on those who have not met their obligations by December 2.

Stage 'Wild Goose' Chase After Crane

It might have been a wild goose chase, but city parks department employees have been running after a wild crane.

About three weeks ago a civilly-conscious resident of Mount Tolmie telephone the department stating one of the Beacon Hill Demolition cranes was at large in that vicinity.

The parks superintendent dispatched two employees in a truck to pick it up. The men chased the bird unsuccessfully until it flew over the Willows Park area. They returned to Beacon Hill and conducted a census. No birds were missing. Since then further reports of the wayward crane have come into the department. As a result of investigation the parks superintendent learned the bird in question was not of his flock, was, in fact, a friendly wild Sandhill crane which has shown such a degree of tameness it was mistaken for one of his more domesticated cousins.

Knew Judge and 'A.G.'—Fine $10

An overseas visitor who threatened intimidation of Police Sergeant Roy Woolsey discovered in the City Police Court this morning the fact that he claimed to know Attorney-General Wismer and Mr. Justice Gordon Sloan, did not help much in having his chauffeur escape a $10 fine.

A charge of speeding in a school zone was laid against the chauffeur and a plea of guilty was entered. Sgt. Woolsey said he stopped the car and spoke to the chauffeur about his driving. The chauffeur remained silent, but the owner of the car, in the back seat, told the sergeant "I'm going to see Gordon Wismer and Chief Justice Sloan in regard to you and your attitude in stopping me on the highway."

H. J. Davis, appearing for the driver, said the man had driven all over Europe and this was his first offence. He contended the comment from the owner of the car had no bearing on this case against the driver.

"It seems to me extraordinary that a man who has driven all over Europe should come here and attempt to intimidate a police officer," said Magistrate Hall. "The police have a difficult enough job as it is without a bad citizen coming along and making it worse. Officers need co-operation of the citizenry rather than an attitude such as that shown by this man," the court added.

HI-Y CLUBS HOLD JOINT CEREMONY

A joint induction ceremony of new members of the Victoria and newly-formed Mount Douglas HI-Y Clubs was held at a meeting of the local group in the Y.M.C.A. building last evening.

Ken Willis, president of the Victoria HI-Y Club, conducted the ceremony assisted by members of the executive, Ray Whitehouse, Kenneth Wilson and Dave Wilson, and school and Y.M.C.A. advisors, H. Dee of Victoria High School and Viv Shoemaker, boys' work secretary of the "Y".

The new members inducted were: Tom Treherne, Alan Roper, John Fraser, Bob McDonald, Rupert Fraser, Ron Bissenden, Hugh Campbell, George Stewart, Gordon Harwood, Rupert Prince, Don Goodwin, George Bodsell, Terry Winsor and Pierre Destra.

It was announced that delegates would be chosen for the International Y.M.C.A. Older Boys' Conference to be held in Vancouver with representatives from all parts of the Pacific Northwest on hand, on November 24, 25 and 26. The theme of the conference would be "Today's Youth and Tomorrow's World."

Yesterday afternoon Mr. Shoemaker and William Ossler, a member of the HI-Y subcommittee of the Y.M.C.A. Boys' Work Committee, attended an organization meeting of a HI-Y group at the Mount View High School.

Called to Bar

Douglas A. M. Patterson, B.A., and H. R. Harrison, both of Victoria, were called to the bar at the Court House this morning by Mr. Justice D. A. McDonald. The candidates were introduced to the court by the Hon. R. L. Maitland, K.C.

Welcoming Mr. Patterson and Mr. Harrison, Mr. Justice McDonald wished them every success in the trying times and pointed out that they, as members of the legal profession, were perhaps better able to realize the seriousness of the present situation than other members of the community.

Delayed By War

A plan of the B.C. Electric Railway Co. Ltd. to construct a new auxiliary steam electricity plant at Brentwood at a cost of nearly $1,000,000 has been delayed because of the war. A. T. Goward, president, said today.

The company will await war developments before proceeding with the plan.

TOWN TOPICS

"Technocracy in Plain Terms" will be the subject of a lecture to be held tonight at 8 in 221 Pemberton Building. Mrs. Brown and O. Corbett will speak.

In fines for exceeding 30 miles an hour, speeding in a school zone, failing to stop and over-parking, 13 motorists contributed $82.50 in the City Police Court this morning.

Bank clearings in the city for week ending today were $1,725,706, according to a statement from the Victoria Clearing House. Figures for the same period last year were $1,887,053.

The first monthly supper meeting of the Fairfield Community Men's Club will be held at Fairfield United Church next Tuesday night at 6.30. The speaker will be Rev. F. R. G. Dredge of Oak Bay. A Jackman will render solos accompanied by Geo. H. Peaker.

The Victoria Welsh Society will hold its regular monthly meeting tomorrow evening in the S.O.E. Hall at 8. Rev. T. G. Griffiths will speak. The soloist will be Albert Bishop, the Gaetz sisters, Mrs. Leach, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Swetnam, Thomas Almond, Mrs. F. Griffin, Miss Frazer and Mr. Jones.

BY-LAW CHARGES ARE WITHDRAWN

Five prosecutions listed under a city by-law were withdrawn by C. L. Harrison, prosecutor, in the City Police Court this morning because he felt the by-law did not conform with powers granted the city under the Municipal Act.

The cases concerned were those in which five persons were charged with keeping more than two bovine animals on a city lot. The informations were sworn by city officials and worded in accordance with the by-law.

Mr. Harrison said he had consulted the statute and discovered the regulatory powers applied to cows, but not bovine animals. The statute had apparently been aimed at the female of the species and did not include all bovine animals, this being the term used in the by-law.

Tolerance Urged On Labor Law

Benevolence and tolerance in dealing with disputes under the Industrial Conciliation and Arbitration Act where workers have made only technical and not deliberate violations of the rules was urged by a delegation representing the Brotherhoods of Railway Workers who interviewed the provincial cabinet this morning.

While not referring to any specific case, the delegation requested that the government should where alleged violations on the part of workers took place. They asked for an amendment to the act which would give trades unions full bargaining powers.

Eighteen other points were covered in the brief submitted to the government.

They urged free textbooks for all grades in the public schools, abolition of all school fees, provision of free milk to under-nourished children and arrangements for supplying hot noon meals in the schools at cost.

Changes in the Workmen's Compensation Act to grant wider benefits, increase in the income tax exemptions to $2,000 for married men and $1,000 for single men, operation of the health insurance scheme, price regulation to prevent war profiteering, lowering the old-age pension limit to 60 years and the proportional representation system for elections were among the legislation suggested.

A. H. McIsaac of Spence's Bridge was the chairman of the delegation which included H. Mackay, H. Elliott and E. Pugsley, all of Vancouver; A. Sutherland, Grand Forks, and J. Nichol of Kamloops.

He illustrated the use of drums and tom-toms and sang three songs, one used when paddling a canoe, another from Hiawatha and the third a hunting song. His beautiful voice brought tremendous applause from the children.

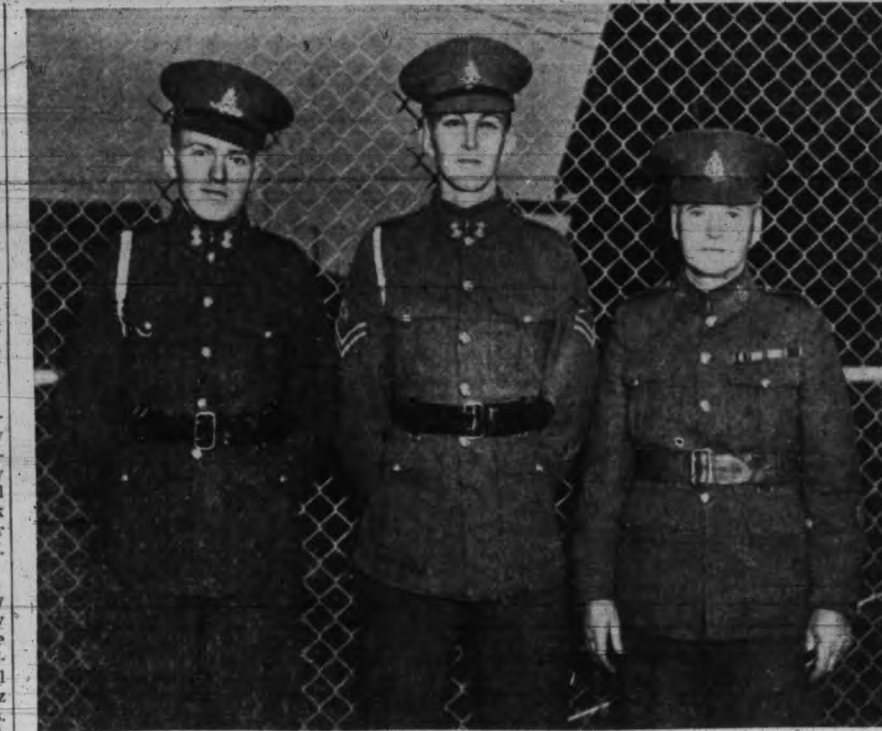

GOVERNMENT ASKED PAY SCHOOL COSTS

The provincial government today was asked by representatives of cities and municipalities to remove school taxes from land and pay the education bill from consolidated revenue.

Mayor O. L. Jones of Kelowna, president, headed the Union of B.C. Municipalities executive which met the cabinet and laid the case before the ministers.

Mayor Jones said it was essential that school taxes be removed from farms so that the agricultural industry could be placed in a sound position.

Alderman George C. Miller of Vancouver detailed the matter from a city standpoint, declaring the mounting school costs were seriously impairing the value of land. He argued that education

THREE GENERATIONS IN ARMY—Sergeant-Major R. G. Humphreys (right), No. 5 Field Workshop, Signal Hill, and a member of the Esquimalt Municipal Council, heads three generations of soldiers stationed on the Island. In the centre is his son, Bombardier R. G. Humphreys, who has been with the Fifth Heavy Artillery, R.C.A., at Macaulay Fort for eight years and on the left is 18-year-old Gunner G. L. Foisy, his grandson, who joined the Fifth Heavy Artillery, R.C.A., two months ago. Gunner Foisy is the son of Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Foisy, Bank Street, the mother being the daughter of Sergeant-Major Humphreys. Sergeant-Major Humphreys served overseas during the last war as an Armorer Sergeant-Major with the 22nd Battalion.

Children Thrilled By Oskenton

Oskenton, chief of the Mohawks, whose name means "Running Deer," is visiting Victoria and making appearance at some of the schools. Yesterday morning he inspired the children at Sir James Douglas School and in the afternoon gave 1,200 students at Victoria High School an unusual thrill. After further appearance here he will proceed to Qualicum and then return to Victoria next week to give additional lectures at local schools.

Chief Oskenton is being sponsored by the school and community drama branch of the Department of Education, and Major L. Bullock-Webster is escorting the chief and introducing him to the large audiences.

Chief Oskenton, who is one of the great baritones of the Empire, was born in Ontario and was 14 years old before he went to Toronto to attend school. Although handicapped for early education, his natural voice aroused support from many sources and he studied earnestly.

In New York, while an usher at Carnegie Hall, the late Andrew Carnegie became very interested in him and the late Thomas Edison also became a supporter. He went to London and Milan, Italy, to further his studies and gave many concerts. London is particularly fond of him. He has toured the world many times and one of his big triumphs was singing the principal role in the presentation of Cadman's opera "Shanewis" in the Hollywood Bowl.

The sign language may be widely used in Victoria following the chief's visit. He taught the two audiences yesterday many of the signs and then proceeded to act a story with the children interpreting his gestures. He was amazed at the ease with which the children "caught on" and rattled off the story as quickly as he could make the signs.

A FINE FIGURE—Chief Oskenton is a commanding figure and wears his long straight hair in two braids, one over each shoulder. He has gorgeous headdresses, the one being found the greatest favor being that of golden eagle with a scarlet stole. He wore necklaces of bear teeth and bear claws and the protecting network of bones from the hind legs of deer, worn to fend off spears and arrows.

He illustrated the use of drums and tom-toms and sang three songs, one used when paddling a canoe, another from Hiawatha and the third a hunting song. His beautiful voice brought tremendous applause from the children.

As a climax for each performance Chief Oskenton showed how the Indian lit fire with the use of a bow and sticks. Boy Scouts said their method might take an hour, but the chief required three minutes at his morning performance, owing to the damp wood, and in the afternoon he produced a good flame in 30 seconds.

was not properly chargeable to land. The delegation also submitted representations to forestall a reported proposal to make municipal councils contribute to the rehabilitation of the teachers' pension fund. Reeve J. B. Leyland presented argument on this point, stating that the cities had no responsibility for the fund which was unsound.

Notes of Legislature

Royalties payable by fur traders in the province on silver and black foxes were reduced from $5 to $1.50 per skin in a revised set of royalty rates announced at the Legislative Building today.

A new royalty of 2 cents for squirrels was announced, and the royalty for weasels was increased from 3 to 5 cents.

An inquiry by special committee of the Legislature into the basis for compensation of miners suffering from silicosis is sought by Conservative members of the Legislature.

Notice of motion asking for the committee was filed today by Capt. Macgregor Macintosh, the party whip, stating there was dissatisfaction with the treatment now extended to those afflicted with the industrial disease.

The British United Press has been added this year to the newspaper services represented in the Legislative Press Gallery. Ronald Dods, manager of the new bureau opened in Victoria, is covering the House for them during the session.

Premier Pattullo today announced award of a contract to Electric Power Equipment Company for installing a generating set at Tranquille Sanatorium. At a figure of $21,758, this firm was the lower of two bidders.

E. G. Rowbottom, deputy minister of trade and industry, today called a meeting of British Columbia's advisory Tourist Council for November 20 in Vancouver.

Mr. Rowbottom, who is the chairman, said this year's tourist work will be reviewed and plans mapped out for next year, when a heavy tourist travel is anticipated.

COURTENAY—At the annual meeting of Courtenay Assembly No. 3 the following officers were elected: Worthy president, Irvine Bowen; first vice-president, Linton Machin; second vice-president, Colton Haggarty; financial secretary, Thos. Halliday; recording secretary, Jas. Calman; treasurer, Archie Walsh; sergeant at arms, D. L. Stewart; chaplain, Wallace Thomson; inner guard, Les Whyte; outer guard, John Crockett Jr.; historian, Thos. Menzies; sick-visiting committee, Wm. Haggarty; entertainment, Robt. Grant; membership, J. Bell. Plans were laid for the annual pioneers' reunion to be held late this month at Courtenay, and also the annual turkey whist drive.

During the last 10 days merchants of Victoria have been canvassed for the sale of wreaths. It is the hope of the committee that the wreaths that have been purchased will be placed at the Cenotaph, Parliament Square, on Remembrance Day. A generous response to the sale of wreaths has been seen so far, Mr. Buttrick said.

Headquarters of the Remembrance Day Committee this year is at 743 View Street, next to Spencer's parking lot. The Poppy Day canvassers Saturday will be volunteers.

ECONOMY CHAMPION IN 1940 RAIMENT—This is the Studebaker Champion Coupe for 1940 which made its appearance recently before local motorists at the showrooms of Jameson Motors Ltd. The Champion, a new car for a new era because of its lack of excess, inefficient weight, was able to establish many brilliant endurance and economy records during the summer of 1939. "Opera" seats give comfort for four or even five passengers.

Traffic Slowed By Heavy Fog

A heavy pall of fog over Victoria last night caused considerable inconvenience to motorists, but a check-up of police reports indicated no serious accidents.

The only accident reported to police was that involving a stolen car and a car owned by Daryl Elford, 261 Moss Street, which was parked on Fernwood Road. Mr. Elford said a car had collided with his car while it stood at the roadside. A license plate from the offending car was picked up at the scene of the accident and a check by police revealed the car belonged to N. E. Alexander, 1112 Balmoral Road. The radiator of the car was still warm when police investigated half an hour after the accident, the car apparently having been returned to the spot from which it was stolen.

Several motorists found it necessary to abandon their cars during the evening.

The B.C. Electric reported their lines suffered no serious disruption of schedules other than the general slowing up resultant from precautionary orders always issued to operators on foggy nights.

The poppies are made by disabled veterans at the Red Cross Workshop.

A feature of Saturday's sale will be the fact that 10 girls of the Victoria Girls' Drill Team will canvass all office buildings of the city.

Fools Many

One young man in Victoria is chortling today over his Halloween prank. He did not employ firecrackers to have his fun, or lift neighbors' gates or go door-to-door seeking hand-outs, but appeared on the downtown streets dressed as a woman.

He dressed the impersonation so perfectly as to fool many a young man about town that evening—whose faces must have taken on a crimson hue when they finally discovered the "she" was a "he".

His face powdered and rouged and decked out in his sister's swaggar suit, with a peasant kerchief as a hat, and bobby pins showing in his neatly cent-parted hair, and with silk stockings and white brogue shoes, to complete the costume "she" found "her" first victim on Yates Street.

It was a friend named Bob. Bob was the most surprised man in town when a strange, but attractive, young lady came up to him, flung "her" arms about his neck and said, sweetly: "Hello, Bobby, darling!"

Bobby, figuring the lady had "the wrong number," hastily backed off.

At that moment a group of sailors approached and the fickle "young lady" dropped Bobby cold and gave the glade to a sailor. The sailor responded.

The impersonator walked some distance with the sailors before they made the embarrassing discovery that they had been fooled. Seeking new fields of fun, the "lady" next joined a group of soldiers who were just entering a cafe. Her vivacious chatter "won" an invitation to join them in a meal.

Later in the evening, because "she" could do things with "her" eyes, a doorman passed "her" at a dance, where "she" danced with men, who failed to discover they had a male partner.

Scottish Concert

A Scottish concert of drama and music will be given tomorrow evening in the Chamber of Commerce auditorium at 8, under the joint auspices of the First United Church choir and the Burns' Club.

Solo artists will be Mrs. W. H. Wilson, Miss Carol Menzies, and Mrs. Charles Goodwin, while Mrs. Wilson, Miss Menzies, J. Petrie and W. C. Fyfe will render quartette numbers. Several choir numbers will be heard with leads taken by Mrs. Wilson, J. Belf and J. Petrie. George H. Peaker will be the accompanist.

The drama section of the concert will be the presentation of scenes from "Rob Roy." Those taking part in the scenes will be: Mrs. W. Wright, R. Hardy, W. C.

Bail $4,000 In Saanich Shooting

Bail of $4,000 for William C. Fletcher, charged with wounding Jack Humphries, 16, with intent to commit grievous bodily harm, was set by Magistrate Hall in the Saanich Police Court this morning.

H. W. Davey appeared for Fletcher this morning to apply for lesser bail after the Magistrate had indicated he would set bail at $5,000.

Mr. Davey said one of the bondsmen was ill and it had been necessary to secure another which would make it difficult to raise $5,000.

Russell Twining, prosecuting counsel, did not oppose the lesser amount.

Fletcher appeared this afternoon on remand and after posting of bail was arranged the case was remanded a week.

The charge is the result of a shooting on Halloween night in which Humphries was wounded in the leg.

DIES COMMITTEE CALLS SOVIET AGENT

WASHINGTON (AP)—Chairman Martin Dies of the House of Representatives committee probing un-Americanism asked the justice department today to help get testimony from George Mink, described by a committee witness as a Soviet secret police agent in the United States.

William McCuiston, self-styled former Communist and a former leader of the Congress of Industrial Organizations' National Maritime Union, told the committee recently that Mink could give orders to Earl Browder, general secretary of the Communist Party in the United States, and that he was the "power behind the scenes" in Maritime work on the west coast.

Watertight Doors In London Subways

LONDON (CP)—Persons who wondered why sections of the Bakerloo and Northern Subway lines have been closed since was made out today that it was to fit them with watertight doors in case of flooding.

Both lines run under the Thames and the London Passenger Transport Board realized a heavy bomb might break walls of the tunnels.
Its engineers designed great steel doors, something like the watertight doors of a ship, weighing six tons each, which are capable of withstanding a pressure of 800 tons, four times as much as they can be called on to resist.

In the event of bomb damage to the under-river tunnels a watchman at each end of the tunnel will press a button and the doors will close in three seconds, preventing the flooding of the rest of the system.

Conservatives Willing To Give Ralston Seat

CHATHAM, Ont. (CP)—The executive of the Kent National Conservative Association has expressed willingness to give a seat to the Liberal candidate and Hon. J. L. Ralston, Finance Minister, now without a seat in Parliament.

The offer was announced as a means of avoiding a contest in the by-election in Kent scheduled for December 18. In this contest
A. L. Thompson had been named as the Liberal candidate and C.
Earl Desmond, Conservative.

OTTAWA (CP)—Hon. J. L.
Ralston, Finance Minister, said today he had not heard of the offer of the Conservative Association of Kent, Ont., to give him an acclamation.

"Naturally, I appreciate very much the compliment being paid me," Col. Ralston said, adding, however, he had not decided in what constituency to seek election.

Gary Cooper Plays Adventurous Role

Gary Cooper, ably seconded by Roy Milland and Robert Preston, and supported by a cast of noted players, has the most adventure-filled role of his career in Para-mount's filmization of "Beau Geste."

In the picture now showing at the Atlas Theatre, Cooper is seen in the title role, as the eldest of a trio of gallant brothers, who, because each does not wish the others thought guilty of stealing a fabulously valuable sapphire from their guardian, join the French Foreign Legion. Soldiers all, loyal as only brothers can be, they endure the hardships of the legion.

points in each frame, yesterday
beat Charles Read of Salisbury, three frames to two, in their heat in the £300 ($1,335) Empire professional snooker tournament. The scores, in Stanbury's favor, were:

HOCKEY GOALIE RETIRES

SEATTLE (AP)—Prexy Phil
Lyette of the Seattle Sea Hawks said yesterday Emmett Vegne, goalie, announced his retirement rather than accept the reduced salary offered him. Lyette said he might land Percy Jackson of Vancouver, and that he was considering an unnamed star amateur.

"BLACKMAIL" IS DRAMATIC STORY

In an adventurously exciting story of prison camp tortures, of an escape through swampy jungles, and of the hazardous life of an oil well shooter, Edward
G. Robinson appears as the central figure of "Blackmail," opening tomorrow at the Dominion Theatre. It is a story which again finds Robinson in the toils of the law, but this time instead of a ruthless killer or racketeer he is cast in the sympathetic role of a man sent up for a crime he did not commit. Ruth Hussey collapses in an oil well fire as she pleads with her husband not to commit a murder for which he may be returned to prison, bringing the story to a hair-raising conclusion. John Wray, Arthur Hohl and Esther Dale are also in the cast.

NOVEL SEQUENCE FILMED AT PLAZA

One way of getting back at the boss who has just fired you is revealed in a comedy sequence in Republic's "Should Husbands Work?" Higgins Family film now showing at the Plaza Theatre.

Russell Gleason calls upon his girl friend, played by Marie Wilson, at the drive-in stand where she works. The boss catches her talking to Russell and fires her.
Thereupon Marie hops into Russell's car, toots the horn, and demands quick service from the boss. Thus, the chagrined boss has to wait upon the customer who had been an employee a few moments before.

CAPITOL THEATRE

Zorina, the exotically lovely dancing star of the Broadway hit, "I Married an Angel," has her first screen starring role in
"On Your Toes," the first big musical treat of the new show season which is now at the Capitol Theatre. Eddie Albert has the male lead and the cast is rounded out with such comedy talent as Alan Hale, Frank Mc-Hugh, James Gleason, Leonid
Kinskey and Erik Rhodes. George Balanchine directed the dance sequences, and Ray Enright directed the rest of the Warner
Bros. production.

RESUME SOCCER POOLS

LONDON (CP)—Football pools, suspended since the outbreak of war, will be resumed with the matches to be played November 18.

They will be pooled pools run by the football pools and the pro- moters' association, and to relieve the postal service coupons will not be sent by post, but will be inserted as advertisements to be cut from newspapers.

Playing a dual role for the first time in her career, Eliza-actress, returns to the screen after an absence of many months in "Stolen Life," which will have its premiere locally today at the Oak Bay Theatre. Adapted by Margaret Kennedy from a best-selling foreign novel, "Stolen Life" is an unusual story well-worthy of the transcendent talents of Miss Bergner. It tells how twins—Sylvia and Martina —both played by Miss Bergner, fell in love with a famous mountain climber in Switzerland. Confused by their identical appearance, the man in the case falls to remember that it was Martina whom first he met. Sylvia, the capricious, giddy one, is intrigued by the whole affair, and marries the man before he departs on a Mission Vessel Visitor to Port

The staunch little motorship John Antle of Victoria, in service for the Columbia Coast Mission to isolated points along the B.C. coast, arrived in port today on her annual visit.

She will be at the Belleville Street docks of the B.C. Coast Service, where the public will be welcomed aboard, before going to drydock for annual overhaul.

Rev. Alan D. Green, superintendent of the Mission, is aboard, and will be pleased to receive any of his many Victoria friends.

The John Antle is one of three vessels operated by the Mission along the coast, bringing spiritual and temporal care to the lonely residents, who dwell in the woods, on tiny islands and at light-houses.

Various Anglican Church organizations of Greater Victoria contribute to the operation of the John Antle and the Mission is also greatly helped by the Community Chest of Victoria, which is now preparing for its annual drive. Without the contribution from the Chest the Mission would be hard pressed and probably would be unable to operate the John Antle.

Through fog and storm, in good weather and foul, the John Antle plys the waters of the Inside Passage, calling frequently at ports both on the mainland and Vancouver Island shores. She carries a doctor and a missionary and often responds to emergency calls, bringing the sick or injured to hospital.

Her particular area is between Garden Bay, about 60 miles north of Vancouver, on the mainland and Rock Bay, on the east coast of Vancouver Island, north of Campbell River. St. Mary's Hospital is at Garden Bay and St. Michael's Hospital at Rock Bay.

A visit to the John Antle is well worth while. The average city dweller has no idea of the lives of the people up-coast, in the lumbering camps and the fishing villages, but a chat of a few minutes with Mr. Greene gives one an amazingly clear picture.

The little ship was named after Rev. John Antle, founder of the Columbia Coast Mission, who is now sailing a small boat from England to Victoria.

Strange Craft To Be Formally Launched

TACOMA, Wash. (AP)—Requests for water from Alaska and Virginia were sent from here today as Tacoma prepared for the launching Saturday of the "wackiest" looking vessel ever seen in the harbor.

The strange ship, named the "Ark" because of its queer lines, was built by Paul Satko, unemployed Richmond, Va., welder, who plans to transport his wife and seven children to remote Cook Inlet, Alaska, in it next spring.

Satko has decided to make the launching formal. If the water requested from the governors of Alaska and Virginia arrives in time, it will be substituted for champagne.

The Virginian built the 40-foot-long, 10-ton boat piecemeal. He started the hull in Richmond, towed it cross-country on a truck and began finishing it up beside the city waterway here a month ago.

The boat looks like the amalgamation of a giant bath tub with a Dutch clog. It is only eight feet wide, 12 feet from keel to deck. The deck is rolled off with unfinished two-by-fours. The wheelhouse looks like an outbuilding.

Shipbuilders kibitzers are offering odds the ark "will flop like a dead elephant" when it hits the water.

B.C. Ideal for Aircraft Building

VANCOUVER (CP)—British Columbia's claims to being an ideal site for extensive aircraft manufacture are set out in a brief submitted to federal authorities, the Vancouver Board of Trade announced.

The board says there are more than 500 skilled workmen already employed in the aircraft industry at Vancouver, and this force would be available as a nucleus for training others.

In addition, the brief cites superior climatic conditions, availability of desirable sites, abundance of raw materials, favorable construction costs and proximity to plane manufacturing centres in the United States.

Around the Docks

CHILLIWACK HERE TWICE IN WEEK

Back in port for the second time this week, Ss. Chilliwack, under charter to the Frank Waterhouse Company, was alongside the Inner Harbor wharf of the Sidney Roofing and Paper Company this morning discharging a consignment of rags from Seattle. The rags are processed and used in the manufacture of paper by the local industrial firm.

Southbound from Zeballos and other points on the west coast of Vancouver Island, the Chilliwack on Monday last touched at the Ogden Point docks to clear for Puget Sound with ore for the Tacoma smelter.

After discharging at Tacoma the coast freighter shifted to Seattle to load for the return trip to Victoria.

Delftyd Transferred

One of the most modern of the combination freight and passenger ships of the British Columbia service of the Holland America Line, the motorship Delftyd, has been transferred to another ocean route, according to information released here today. The Delftyd, which was the flagship of the Dutch company's North Pacific fleet, it is assumed, is being operated in a new service in place of one of the larger Holland-America liners.

The Delftyd, according to British news sources, was among the neutral vessels detained at British ports early this month for contraband inspection.

SHIPBUILDING IN JAPAN CURTAILED

TOKIO (CP-Havas)—Domel (Japanese) News Agency has reported last night Japan has decided to cut its shipbuilding program in half as a result of the war.

Domel said the Ministry of Communications has approved plans for reducing the program of ships to be constructed from 30 vessels, with a total tonnage of 59,500 tons, to 16 ships totaling 30,300 tons.

The 16 ships to be built will include 16 freighters, one tanker and another ship of category yet to be determined, Domel said. Elimination of 14 ships from the original program was decided upon as a result of reduction in trade since the outbreak of war.

Driving of Last C.P.R. Spike Broadcast

CRAIGELLACHIE, B.C.—Floodlights and lanterns held aloft by trainmen of a westbound freight stabbed the darkness of this tiny mountain outpost last night as Craigellachie's meagre population huddled around a Canadian Broadcasting Corporation microphone which carried out to the rest of Canada the story of the famous "last spike" of the Canadian Pacific Railway. Here stands the simple cairn with a bronze plate bearing the inscription "Here was driven the last spike completing the Canadian Pacific Railway from ocean to ocean, November 7, 1885. Six days before the 54th anniversary of this important act, an eyewitness of the historical event, Matthew F. Crawford, told how Lord Strathcona drove home the spike which achieved the climax of long years of struggle to complete Canada's first transcontinental railway.

Air Services Extended
MONTREAL (CP)—Trans-Canada Airlines augmented its services yesterday with a new Toronto-Ottawa-Montreal flight and inauguration of mail and express flights to the Maritimes. The new tri-city plane doubles the Ontario-Quebec service.

The Maritime service was inaugurated after the arrival here of the Toronto-Ottawa plane. The big TCA machine took off for a two-hour and 20-minute flight to Moncton, terminus of the Maritime extension.

TCA headquarters announced a complete air mail service from Toronto to Montreal and the Maritimes is expected to be established early next summer. The airline will be extended to Halifax probably within the next month.

Wreckage of Sunken Ledyard Located

BOSTON (AP)—The American Export liner Exambion arrived here today and reported finding lifeboats and wreckage of the British freighter Ledyard about 80 miles from Gibraltar. The fate of the Ledyard's crew was not known by the Exambion's officers.

The British freighter Ledyard was destroyed October 24 when at least three submarines attacked a convoy of 24 ships. Her crew of 31 was rescued by the American freighter Crown City and landed at Gibraltar.

German Vessel Is Confiscated

LONDON (CP)—Great Britain's prize court, in its first session of the war, today ordered that the 7,583-ton German freighter Pomona, seized in a British port, be handed over to the British government.

Sir Boyd Merriman, president of the probate, divorce and admiralty division of the High Court, presided. Attorney-General Sir Donald Somervell appeared for the government and the Hamburg owners of the ship were represented by a London attorney.

A lawyer representing the Jamaica Banana Producers' Association appeared before the court in connection with the case. The association was the time charterer of the vessel. Counsel said the conduct of the master and owners of the Hamburg vessel in the days before the outbreak of war had been such that the association treated it as a repudiation of the charter agreement and caused the vessel to be arrested August 25.

Counsel agreed, however, that the rights of the crown took precedence over the association's rights and did not dispute that the prize procedure overrode the admiralty action instituted by the association.

Luxury Liners May Be Sent to Pacific

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Possibility of the return of big luxury liners to the intercoastal service was seen here today with receipt of a telegram from Representative Richmond J. Welch, which declared "careful study would be made of the matter" by the United States Maritime Commission.

The telegram was in answer to one sent Welch by Mayor Angelo Rossi asking the congressman to point out to ship owners and members of the maritime commission that the neutrality bill, if passed, might eliminate from Transatlantic service such luxury liners as the Washington and Manhattan, making them available for intercoastal service.

Welch's reply read: "Have conferred with Admiral Land (chairman of the Maritime Commission) regarding your suggested assignment of ships to intercoastal service and was advised that careful study would be made of the matter."

Two Believed Dead As Launch Burns
NEW WESTMINSTER (CP)—Two men are believed to have perished in the unexplained burning of a gasoline launch on Pitt Lake, about 32 miles northeast of here. Bud Irwin and Leo Fedewa left Pitt River Bridge, 12 miles from here, on Tuesday afternoon, on a four-hour trip. The charred hull of their boat was found yesterday about two miles north of Penitentiary Island in Pitt Lake.

Boat Awaits Survey

PRINCE RUPERT, B.C. (CP)—Whether the damaged United States freighter Mary D, which ran ashore off Grenville Channel Monday, will be repaired here or continue her voyage to Alaska, will await arrival of an underwriters' representative from San Francisco.

Divers inspected the vessel here and found she was damaged near the stern. A further survey will be made by the underwriters to determine whether the Mary D should proceed to Alaska or be drydocked here.

Orange Peel Cannot Be Thrown Overboard

TORONTO (CP)—On Atlantic crossings nowadays passengers are not allowed even to throw orange peels overboard for fear of revealing the ship's presence to Nazi submarines. Mrs. J. M. Chittenden, recent arrival from Scotland, said today.

B.C. Radio Man Saved

LEITH, Scotland (CP Cable)—David MacLeod of Vancouver, wireless operator of the steamship Cairn Mona, was saved when the 4,666-ton ship was sunk by an "explosion," it was learned today. There were 41 survivors. MacLeod was paid off here yesterday.

Egg Prices

These prices are obtained daily from the office of the Dominion Government Poultry Products Inspection Service, Victoria.

Wheat

WINNIPEG (CP)—Excellent export again proved unable to strengthen wheat futures prices on Winnipeg Grain Exchange and values finished the dull session 1/4 to 1/2 cent lower. November wheat closed at 68 1/2, December 69 1/2, and May 74 1/2, while the July option finished its first day of trading at 76 1/2.

Foreign sales of Canadian wheat were expected to exceed 1,000,000 bushels for the day.

The encouraging export support was not fully reflected in the pit, however, and apart from moderate mill buying there was little other activity. The mill purchases were believed to have represented export business in flour.

Cash wheat operations uncovered a fair export demand for Nos. 2 and 3 northern wheat as well as some mill buying in the lower grades. Quiet trading held coarse grain operations to small export purchases of oats and barley.

OUR BOARDING HOUSE, with Major Hoople

OUT OUR WAY—

By Williams

Uncle Ray

Four-fifths of Jugo-slavs Live on Farms

Most countries in Europe have short, simple names. We may give as examples: France, Spain, Norway, Sweden, Denmark and Holland.

Among the longer names is one which belongs to a country on the Adriatic Sea. It faces toward Italy, and is known as Yugoslavia. The name means "Land of the South Slavs."

Farmer and his wife in street of Yugoslav village.

Jugoslavia has about twice as many people as the state of Ohio. It is two and one-third times as large as Ohio.

If you visited a village in Jugoslavia, you might see a farmer who had come to town on foot, carrying a live sheep on his shoulders. He would be on his way to market, perhaps having walked miles with his burden.

The nation has a few large cities. Belgrade, the capital has a population of a million. It contains wide streets and quite a number of well-built homes. There are automobiles and trolley cars on the streets, and many of the homes have electric lights.

In general, however, Jugoslavia is "behind the times." Life goes along slowly outside the large cities. There are two-wheeled cabs which travel at the rate of about three miles an hour.

Forests and mountains cover a great deal of the country. There also are valleys with good soil for farming.

About four out of five people in Jugoslavia live on farms. They raise crops of wheat, rye, potatoes, and flax. Sheep, goats and cattle graze on the rich pasture lands.

Jugoslavia is made up of several little countries which were put together after the World War. It is a kingdom, and the present ruler is a 16-year-old boy, King Peter. He was proclaimed king when only 11 years of age.

Serbia is one of the small countries which joined to make Jugoslavia. The world knows Serbia as the first country to be invaded in the World War which broke out in 1914.

HOROSCOPE

Friday, November 3

Benefic aspects rule strongly today. The morning is especially promising to aviators and naval officers. It is a date to launch carefully planned business enterprises. Merchants are well directed and should have satisfactory relations with bankers under this configuration.

Women come under stimulating and helpful planetary influences today. There is a sign indicating that their foresight is to be trusted and their ambitious plans aided. Peace organizations and women's clubs are subject to strong guidance. College girls may expect romantic friendships. Social festivities will be successful under this configuration.

Merchants and manufacturers continue under the most favorable planetary government. Builders of airplanes and intricate machinery will profit greatly after overcoming serious obstacles. Bankers will meet extraordinary conditions in the world of finance. An untoward incident will arouse public sentiment regarding the continued existence of subversive organizations. Propaganda will circulate through foreign language syndicates as well as through secret channels independent of the press. Radio will come under more severe restrictions than have governed it in the past.

Russia may play a treacherous game in the war, for Stalin is under a planetary guidance that encourages secrecy and double-dealing. Some sort of a hand-over from Spain is to be responsible for sudden changes of policy. The seers have warned persistently that the Soviet government could not be trusted, a fact that Hitler may discover.

Persons whose birthdate it is have the augury of a year of fairly good fortune. Courtship and marriage are indicated for the young and middle-aged, but there may be deception and disappointment for some. Children born on this day probably will be affectionate and reticent in nature. These Scorpio subjects are temperamental and susceptible to moods sad and gay.

THIS CURIOUS WORLD

By William Ferguson

ANSWER: Cleveland, Ohio. A starfish radiates around a centre. Therefore it has no right or left sides, no front or rear end—just a top and bottom.

Dorothy Dix's Letter Box

DEAR MISS DIX—I have been married two years to the most wonderful man in the world and we are devotedly in love with each other, but my problem is this: My husband's work is construction and we move every two or three months to a new job, sometimes even going to other countries. We are both very fond of children and want some of our own, but feel that to raise youngsters when we are so constantly on the move would be a hardship to them, and that when they came of school age he and I would virtually have to part, as I would have to establish a home for them, while he would have to go on with his work. I don't like this way of living, anyway. I want a settled home, where I can have my own things and make friends. Can you help me to decide what to do?

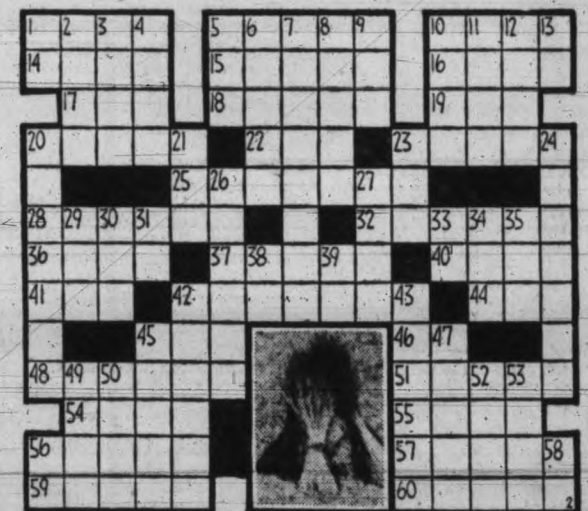

WORRIED.

Answer: Well, Worried, I am old-fashioned enough to think that a wife should love her husband enough and have backbone enough to go with him where his fortune calls him. She should buck him up into doing the very best that is in him instead of making things harder for him by whining and crying because she had to leave the place she was born in and go into a new way of living and can't have a kitchen with hemstitched curtains at the windows.

You knew your husband's business when you married him and you agreed to it. Don't you think you are being a coward and a quitter now when you are acting as if you were a martyr about having to move from place to place? And don't you think you are taking a great responsibility on yourself in trying to make him give up the work for which he has fitted himself and in which he is making a good living just because you want to live where you know the neighbors? Many wives do that, and then when their husbands are out of jobs and can't get work they blame them for being failures.

DOROTHY DIX.
